It Will Be Minor Surgery, LBJ Says

THE VALVE IS CLOSED. Fred E. Morr, Ohio Department of Natural Resources director, officially dedicated the Highlandtown Lake today by closing the valve to begin the impoundment of water. Looking on, left to right in the background, are Steve Barborak, vice president of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council; Floyd Lower council president, and Dan Armbruster, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, facing surgery shortly before Thanksgiving, said today his throat and abdominal problems are minor. He said he never considered calling off his marathon Asian trip because of the ailments.

The President told a news conference his doctors had not advised him to cancel or curtail the pace of his 17-day journey, which ended Wednesday night.

"... They never at any time considered doing it," he said. And Johnson added:

"I think the best indication of my general physical condition is that, notwithstanding the minor problems I have ... even though I have both of these problems, I did make the Asian trip, I didn't get weary, I didn't stay tired and I did get plenty of rest throughout."

Johnson's doctors already have said his general health is excellent and there is no indication of any serious problem. The surgery is planned to remove a small growth from his throat and repair a painful defect in the year-old scar left by his gall bladder operation.

Johnson said he does not dread the operation.

"I don't recommend them, I don't favor them," he said.

But the President said he is fortunate to have "a lot of good help" at the White House, and what he described as the finest doctors in the land.

"And actually, after all, it's not anything to make a big show over," he said, calling the ailments relatively minor.

Johnson said the throat polyp which doctors will remove has not made speaking painful or difficult — but he said he will not have to do much talking anyhow in the next few days.

Today, Johnson heads for his Texas ranch to begin a two-week rest on doctors' orders. It means the 58-year-old President will be relaxing, not campaigning, in the three days before Tuesday's state and congressional elections.

The operation, in doctors' language, is to remove a throat polyp and to correct an incisional hernia.

It is expected to take less than an hour. Johnson's physicians said the President would be hospitalized for several days.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Johnson would enter Bethesda Naval Hospital on Nov. 21. But the White House insisted there has been no decision on where the surgery will be conducted. The neval hospital is in a Maryland suburb of the capital.

"The date has not been picked nor has the hospital been picked," Bill D. Movers, press secretary, said Thursday night.

Johnson made his medical announcement in the White House Cabinet room Thursday. While newsmen assembled, Johnson slouched back in his chair and joked about the rigors of the Pacific mission he completed Wednesday night.

Then, matter-of-factly, he read his startling news: "Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. I wanted you to know that my doctors have recommended that I undergo surgery."

He said it will take place in 15 to 18 days.

Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, the White House physician, said there was "no indication of any serious problem" in connection with Johnson's abdomen or throat.

"And his general health continues to be excellent," Burkley said.

Surgeons removed Johnson's faulty gall bladder and a kidney stone in a two-hour, 15-minute operation on Oct. 8, 1965.

That surgery kept Johnson in Bethesda Naval Hospital for two weeks. And he spent the rest of the year recuperating at his LBJ Ranch in Texas.

Johnson's doctors said his wearying Asian-Pacific journey had aggravated his abdominal problem. Dr. Burkley said he had advised the President against making a tentatively planned political journey this weekend.

"I recommended that he have a period of rest of approximately two weeks beforehand," Burkley said. "I feel that indicates against a weekend trip."

Newsmen had assembled expecting a White House announcement that Johnson would journey coast-to-coast before election day on a 10-state vote hunting mission for Democratic candidates.

The first indication that Johnson would announce something himself came when news photographers were summoned to take pictures of the President sitting alone in the Cabinet room.

They got no explanation, coming or going.

Dam Dedicated

Marina For City, Other Work Due

Proposed recreational projects for Columbiana County, including a $91,000 boat marina for East Liverpool, were announced by Fred E. Morr, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, during the official dedication of the Highlandtown Dam off Route 39 this morning.

The valve was closed at the dam to begin the impoundment of 182 acres of water at the 2,106-acre public wildlife area. More than 40 braved the cold winds to attend the ceremony.

AT EAST LIVERPOOL, the Division of Watercraft is working with the Board of Park Commissioners on a cooperative boating facility project, Morr announced.

The new boating facility will include a double launching ramp, a 90-boat dock, sanitary facilities and roads and parking lots for 125 cars and trailers. The cost of the cooperative project will total $91,000, with two-thirds of the funds coming from the state and the remainder from the park commission, Morr said.

The marina will be located on the Ohio River at Central and Ohio Aves. and should be completed in time for the 1967 boating season.

At the brief ceremony, Morr credited Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon with being primarily responsible for the Highlandtown development becoming a reality.

He also announced future plans for the lake, include a camping area, beach and bathhouse, boat marina and picnic area. These are under design, with construction set to begin in 1967.

Early next spring work will begin on the relocation of Township Road 773-877 on the western end of the future lake. The total state investment at Highlandtown when all facilities are

Famous City Of Florence Hit By Flood

450,000 Without Drinking Water; Other Areas Suffer

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — The rain-swollen Arno River burst over its banks today and a disastrous flood plunged this famous renaissance city into chaos and misery. Scores of other communities in central Italy were as hard hit.

It was the worst Arno flood since World War II.

The flood waters threatened some of Western civilization's most priceless artistic treasures in the historic downtown center of Florence. The water rose around the shop-lined Ponte Vecchio — the Old Bridge — lapped near the Nffizi Art Gallery and poured into the Piazza del Duomo, site of the Florence Cathedral and Giotto's bell tower.

Hundreds of residents fled to the upper floors of their homes or hastened to higher parts of the city.

The flood waters burst water mains and short-circuited electric and communications cables. Whole sections of the city were without drinkable water and electricity.

The winter's worst weather so far swept across Europe with snow, floods, avalanches and freezing fog.

The destructive wave of bad weather caused widespread damage and transportation tieups throughout Italy, from Sicily to the Alps. But Florence and an area of Tuscany extending 60 miles to the south were hardest hit.

Testimony At Trial Tied To Revolver

State Rests Case During Copestick Hearing At Lisbon

Copestick is charged with the pistol slaying of his estranged wife, Rebecca Mae, 19, the afternoon of June 19 in a car on Price St. Ext., Liverpool Township.

The gun is Exhibit 14 of the state's exhibits admitted as evidence before Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis rested the state's case at 2:55 p. m. yesterday at Lisbon. A great many of the exhibits are photographs.

ADDISON GIBBONS, a clerk in the Army-Navy Store at 116 E. 6th St. here, testified he sold the gun to the defendant on Saturday, June 18, "probably between 1 and 2 p. m."

He said Copestick gave his address as 871 Valley Ave. and purchased the gun for $15.88 plus tax. The clerk recalled that Copestick also bought one box, possibly two boxes, of shells — .22 shorts.

Edward R. Hopkins, a laboratory technician at the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London, was the final witness yesterday.

He said he test-fired the gun in the bureau lab and compared the test bullets with the slugs removed from the head and shoulder of the victim.

Only one bullet — the one taken from Mrs. Copestick's shoulder — was sufficiently intact for the test. The other four, taken from her head, were "too mutilated."

HOPKINS said he examined the intact slug and the test bullets microscopically and is of the opinion the same gun fired both.

He described the gun as: "A six-shot revolver — just the fact that it is a revolver tells you it

President Appraises Asian Trip

Nations At Manila United For Peace, Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appraised his Asia, Pacific trip today as highly successful and said the nations at the Manila conference are united in a determination "to walk the last mile" in the search for peace.

The President made the assessment at a news conference a day after announcing that he faces surgery in about a fortnight on his throat and abdomen.

He dismissed that prospect today as not "something to make a show over."

Answering questions, Johnson said that at no time had his doctors advised him not to make his 31,500-mile trip overseas, or to ease up during the journey.

The best indication of his physical condition, Johnson said, is that notwithstanding his throat polyp and repair work on the abdomen, he did make the trip, he didn't get weary, and he got plenty of rest throughout.

Johnson also told reporters assembled in the White House East Room for a televised news session that he sees no reason why the Tuesday election should greatly affect any decision the North Vietnamese might make on continuing the war.

While he was at it, he said there could be a change of 40 or 50 seats in the House without drastically affecting the government's program.

His voice was strong and he showed no signs of unusual weariness or illness.

Johnson said he is not a good judge of what the Communist reaction to the result of the coming congressional election will be. He had been asked whether he thinks the outcome will have any effect on Communist intentions to continue the Viet Nam war. There have been suggestions that an administration setback could encourage the Communists.

"The President is not a candidate in this election," Johnson remarked, saying he does not see how the election could change the government's policies. He also said he hopes the Communists do not make any miscalculations.

Asked what he knows about the views of the Soviet leaders on Viet Nam, Johnson said, "I have every reason to believe they would like to see the fighting stop."

"Until we can reason this out we must maintain the strength to defend our men," he said.

Johnson added that Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander in Viet Nam, made it clear that additional manpower will be needed in Viet Nam, and that the U.S. allies heard his presentation.

"If more troops are needed they will be sent," he said.

U.N. Command Say Reds 'Traveling Collision Course'

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command, angrily protesting the slaying of six Americans and a South Korean south of the armistice line this week, warned the North Korean Communists they are "travelling a collision course."

U.S. Maj. Gen. Richard Ciccolella gave the warning near the close of a long and bitter meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called into an emergency session to discuss the attack Wednesday, one of two south of the demilitarized zone on the last day of President Johnson's visit to South Korea.

Ciccolella, after describing at length and with passion the North Korean ambush of the American patrol, handed the Communists a letter from the U.N. commander in Korea, U.S. Gen. Charles Bonesteel III, protesting 12 "violent, unprovoked" North Korean attacks since Oct. 15.

"Unless you have elected to aggravate the Korean military armistice," Bonesteel wrote, "you will take appropriate action to cease these wanton acts of kidnaping, murder and atrocity. You are hereby put on notice that the United Nations command views these violations as grave provocations."

Ciccolella said the letter "carries the assurance that the United Nations Command will not shirk its duties and responsibilities whatever conditions exist. The responsibility for whatever consequences may develop from continued acts of hostility will rest clearly on your side."

The North Korean representative, Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, refused to transmit Bonesteel's letter to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

U.S. Pilots Trade Fire With MIGs

Outnumbered Southern Troops Repel Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese militiamen, outnumbered almost 9 to 1, repelled 700 Viet Cong with the aid of armed helicopters and fighter-bombers in nearly five hours of hard fighting near the Cambodian border today, Vietnamese military spokesmen reported.

A few miles away, units of the U.S. 25th Division's 196th Light Infantry Brigade battled throughout the day to clean out a series of Communist bunkers in an area where the U.S. troops fought two jungle engagements Thursday. Heavy fighting was reported continuing tonight.

The air war went on at a quickened pace. U.S. pilots reported sighting four MIG jets northwest of Hanoi and trading fire with two of them, but neither side reported damage.

The South Vietnamese said 52 Communists were killed and five captured in their predawn battle near Tay Ninh, about 60 miles northwest of Saigon. Government losses were described as moderate, indicating a considerable number of killed or wounded.

Planes and helicopters struck repeatedly at the Communist attackers and dropped flares to illuminate the Viet Cong attacks.

A search of the battlefield after dawn turned up a variety of weapons, a spokesman said, including two Chinese Communist flame throwers, 75mm recoilless rifles, antitank weapons, and a number of machine-guns.

The American infantrymen who fought nearby were engaged in Operation Attleboro, which had killed 10 Viet Cong and captured five others by Thursday afternoon.

Reports of the action today were incomplete, the American spokesman said.

For the third day in a row skies were relatively clear over North Viet Nam Thursday after almost a week of bad weather. American pilots flew 155 missions in the Hanoi, Haiphong and southern panhandle areas.

Pilots reportel destruction of 8 bridges, 14 cargo barges, 25 buildings, 43 trucks, 3 cargo junks, 2 antiaircraft sites, and 2 pontoon bridge segments, as well as damage to other targets, including two railroad yards.

Vice President Not Likely To Be Stand-In

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Johnson is not expected to have Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey act as a decision-making stand-in while the chief executive is under anesthetics for his operation later this month.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Thursday he does not believe such a formal arrangement will be made —as it was on Oct. 8, 1965, when the President underwent surgery for removal of his gall bladder.

Police Testimony Looms

Sheppard 'Love Affair' Cited In Murder Retrial

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — A police officer testified today that a few hours after the July 4, 1954, bludgeon - slaying of Marilyn Sheppard, he told Samuel H. Sheppard: "As far as I am concerned, you are the one who killed your wife."

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An old love affair between Samuel H. Sheppard and Susan Hayes has been mentioned for the first time in his retrial for the bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn. Police testimony was expected to continue today.

The former osteopath served nine years in prison for the slaying before he won his freedom in July 1964, when a U.S. district judge in Dayton ruled that he did not receive a fair trial. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the ruling last June 6.

Fred Drenkhan, the first policeman to enter the Sheppard home in Bay Village on July 4, 1954, the day Marilyn was killed, testified Thursday: "We asked him if he had any extramarital affairs. At this time he mentioned Susan Hayes. He said she was the only one he knew."

The state contends that Sheppard, 42, beat Marilyn to death during a quarrel over the affair with Miss Hayes, then 24. Miss Hayes, star state witness during the first trial when she testified to intimacies with Sheppard, reportedly is married and living in Santa Monica, Calif.

Drenkhan who is now Bay Village police chief, testified that when he asked Sheppard if Marilyn had love affairs that could have led to her death, Sheppard said: "No, she was a fine girl."

Drenkhan's testimony followed court appearances by former Bay Village mayor J. Spencer Houk—the first person Sheppard said he called the morning of the slaying — Houk's ex-wife, Esther, and Mrs. Doris Bender, who testified she saw lights in the Sheppard home about 2:30 a.m. the day of the slaying.

Under questioning by assistant prosecutor Leo M. Spellacy, Drenkhan said that about 6:20 a.m. the day Marilyn was killed he went to the boathouse platform behind the Sheppard house and saw that the sand on the beach "seemed undisturbed."

In testimony Wednesday Houk said he and Bay Village Police Chief John Eaton, now dead, went to the beach later in the morning and saw one set of footprints in the sand that "led to the east."

Sheppard contends he followed the bushy-haired intruder to the beach after being knocked out in the house, fought with the slayer on the beach and was knocked out again.

Drenkhan said Mrs. Houk was at the house when he arrived and after talking to her he went upstairs to view Marilyn's body.

White House Rites Viewed By Dr. Hayes

Dr. John W. Hayes of 1301 St. Clair Ave., president of the American Osteopathic Association, attended a White House ceremony Thursday noon at which President Johnson signed into law two health care laws enacted by Congress.

Dr. Hayes, who took office in July as head of the national organization, was among a delegation of physicians, surgeons, university and labor representatives who went to the White House by presidential invitation. The President used a whole series of pens in signing the two measures, presenting one to Dr. Hayes and others to those in the audience.

The President signed the Allied Health Professions Act, which provides for training of X-ray and laboratory technicians and others in allied technical fields, and the Comprehensive Health Planning and Public Health Services Bill, which provides for establishment of regional health care centers throughout the nation.

Never Altered Trip Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, facing surgery shortly before Thanksgiving, said today his throat and abdominal problems are minor. He said he never considered calling off his marathon Asian trip because of the ailments.

The President told a news conference his doctors had not advised him to cancel or curtail the pace of his 17-day journey, which ended Wednesday night.

"... They never at any time considered doing it," he said. And Johnson added:

"I think the best indication of my general physical condition is that, notwithstanding the minor problems I have ... even though I have both of these problems, I did make the Asian trip, I didn't get weary, I didn't stay tired and I did get plenty of rest throughout."

Johnson's doctors already have said his general health is excellent and there is no indication of any serious problem. The surgery is planned to remove a small growth from his throat and repair a painful defect in the year-old scar left by his gall bladder operation.

Johnson said he does not dread the operation.

"I don't recommend them, I don't favor them," he said.

But the President said he is fortunate to have "a lot of good help" at the White House, and what he described as the finest doctors in the land.

"And actually, after all, it's not anything to make a big show over," he said, calling the ailments relatively minor.

Johnson said the throat polyp which doctors will remove has not made speaking painful or difficult — but he said he will not have to do much talking anyhow in the next few days.

Today, Johnson heads for his Texas ranch to begin a two-week rest on doctors' orders. It means the 58-year-old President will be relaxing, not campaigning, in the three days before Tuesday's state and congressional elections.

The operation, in doctors' language, is to remove a throat polyp and to correct an incisional hernia.

It is expected to take less than an hour. Johnson's physicians said the President would be hospitalized for several days.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Johnson would enter Bethesda Naval Hospital on Nov. 21. But the White House insisted there has been no decision on where the surgery will be conducted. The neval hospital is in a Maryland suburb of the capital.

Then, matter-of-factly, he read his startling news. "Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. I wanted you to know that my doctors have recommended that I undergo surgery."

He said it will take place in 15 to 18 days.

Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, the White House physician, said there was "no indication of any serious problem" in connection with Johnson's abdomen or throat.

"And his general health continues to be excellent," Burkley said.

Surgeons removed Johnson's faulty gall bladder and a kidney stone in a two-hour, 15-minute operation on Oct. 8, 1965.

That surgery kept Johnson in Bethesda Naval Hospital for two weeks. And he spent the rest of the year recuperating at his LBJ Ranch in Texas.

Johnson's doctors said his wearying Asian-Pacific journey had aggravated his abdominal problem. Dr. Burkley said he had advised the President against making a tentatively planned political journey this weekend.

"I recommended that he have a period of rest of approximately two weeks beforehand," Burkley said. "I feel that indicates against a weekend trip."

Newsmen had assembled expecting a White House announcement that Johnson would journey coast-to-coast before election day on a 10-state vote hunting mission for Democratic candidates.

Ciccolella, after describing at length and with passion the North Korean ambush of the American patrol, handed the Communists a letter from the U.N. commander in Korea, U.S. Gen. Charles Bonesteel III, protesting 12 "violent, unprovoked" North Korean attacks since Oct. 15.

"Unless you have elected to aggravate the Korean military armistice," Bonesteel wrote, "you will take appropriate action to cease these wanton acts of kidnaping, murder and atrocity. You are hereby put on notice that the United Nations command views these violations as grave provocations."

Ciccolella said the letter "carries the assurance that the United Nations Command will not shirk its duties and responsibilities whatever conditions exist. The responsibility for whatever consequences may develop from continued acts of hostility will rest clearly on your side."

The North Korean representative, Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, refused to transmit Bonesteel's letter to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Outnumbered Southern Troops Repel Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese militiamen, outnumbered almost 9 to 1, repelled 700 Viet Cong with the aid of armed helicopters and fighter-bombers in nearly five hours of hard fighting near the Cambodian border today, Vietnamese military spokesmen reported.

A few miles away, units of the U.S. 25th Division's 196th Light Infantry Brigade battled throughout the day to clean out a series of Communist bunkers in an area where the U.S. troops fought two jungle engagements Thursday. Heavy fighting was reported continuing tonight.

The air war went on at a quickened pace. U.S. pilots reported sighting four MIG jets northwest of Hanoi and trading fire with two of them, but neither side reported damage.

The South Vietnamese said 52 Communists were killed and five captured in their predawn battle near Tay Ninh, about 60 miles northwest of Saigon. Government losses were described as moderate, indicating a considerable number of killed or wounded.

Planes and helicopters struck repeatedly at the Communist attackers and dropped flares to illuminate the Viet Cong attacks.

A search of the battlefield after dawn turned up a variety of weapons, a spokesman said, including two Chinese Communist flame throwers, 75mm recoilless rifles, antitank weapons, and a number of machineguns.

The American infantrymen who fought nearby were engaged in Operation Attleboro, which had killed 10 Viet Cong and captured five others by Thursday afternoon.

Reports of the action today were incomplete, the American spokesman said.

For the third day in a row skies were relatively clear over North Viet Nam Thursday after almost a week of bad weather. American pilots flew 155 missions in the Hanoi, Haiphong and southern panhandle areas.

Pilots reportel destruction of 8 bridges, 14 cargo barges, 25 buildings, 43 trucks, 3 cargo junks, 2 antiaircraft sites, and 2 pontoon bridge segments, as well as damage to other targets, including two railroad yards.

Vice President Not Likely To Be Stand-In

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Johnson is not expected to have Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey act as a decision-making stand-in while the chief executive is under anesthetics for his operation later this month.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Thursday he does not believe such a formal arrangement will be made —as it was on Oct. 8, 1965, when the President underwent surgery for removal of his gall bladder.

Sheppard 'Love Affair' Cited In Murder Retrial

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — A police officer testified today that a few hours after the July 4, 1954, bludgeon - slaying of Marilyn Sheppard, he told Samuel H. Sheppard: "As far as I am concerned, you are the one who killed your wife."

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An old love affair between Samuel H. Sheppard and Susan Hayes has been mentioned for the first time in his retrial for the bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn. Police testimony was expected to continue today.

The former osteopath served nine years in prison for the slaying before he won his freedom in July 1964, when a U.S. district judge in Dayton ruled that he did not receive a fair trial. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the ruling last June 6.

Fred Drenkhan, the first policeman to enter the Sheppard home in Bay Village on July 4, 1954, the day Marilyn was killed, testified Thursday: "We asked him if he had any extramarital affairs. At this time he mentioned Susan Hayes. He said she was the only one he knew."

The state contends that Sheppard, 42, beat Marilyn to death during a quarrel over the affair with Miss Hayes, then 24. Miss Hayes, star state witness during the first trial when she testified to intimacies with Sheppard, reportedly is married and living in Santa Monica, Calif.

Drenkhan who is now Bay Village police chief, testified that when he asked Sheppard if Marilyn had love affairs that could have led to her death, Sheppard said: "No, she was a fine girl."

Drenkhan's testimony followed court appearances by former Bay Village mayor J. Spencer Houk—the first person Sheppard said he called the morning of the slaying — Houk's ex-wife, Esther, and Mrs. Doris Bender, who testified she saw lights in the Sheppard home about 2:30 a.m. the day of the slaying.

Under questioning by assistant prosecutor Leo M. Spellacy, Drenkhan said that about 6:20 a.m. the day Marilyn was killed he went to the boathouse platform behind the Sheppard house and saw that the sand on the beach "seemed undisturbed."

In testimony Wednesday Houk said he and Bay Village Police Chief John Eaton, now dead, went to the beach later in the morning and saw one set of footprints in the sand that "led to the east."

Sheppard contends he followed the bushy-haired intruder to the beach after being knocked out in the house, fought with the slayer on the beach and was knocked out again.

Drenkhan said Mrs. Houk was at the house when he arrived and after talking to her he went upstairs to view Marilyn's body.

White House Rites Viewed By Dr. Hayes

Dr. John W. Hayes of 1301 St. Clair Ave., president of the American Osteopathic Association, attended a White House ceremony Thursday noon at which President Johnson signed into law two health care laws enacted by Congress.

Dr. Hayes, who took office in July as head of the national organization, was among a delegation of physicians, surgeons, university and labor representatives who went to the White House by presidential invitation. The President used a whole series of pens in signing the two measures, presenting one to Dr. Hayes and others to those in the audience.

The President signed the Allied Health Professions Act, which provides for training of X-ray and laboratory technicians and others in allied technical fields, and the Comprehensive Health Planning and Public Health Services Bill, which provides for establishment of regional health care centers throughout the nation.

Donald Fulk, 26, of 30 Lincoln St. suffered injuries of the skull, chest, ribs and back in the mishap along Township Rd. 768, about a mile east of Route 39 in the Maple Hill area near Salineville, at 8 p.m.

A Salineville driver whose car struck a tree and went over a 40-foot embankment Thursday night was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Donald Fulk, 26, of 30 Lincoln St. suffered injuries of the skull, chest, ribs and back in the mishap along Township Rd. 768, about a mile east of Route 39 in the Maple Hill area near Salineville, at 8 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Fulk was headed west in a 1966 convertible when it went off the right side of the roadway, struck a tree and went down the embankment. He was taken to the hospital by relatives.

There was extensive damage to the front of the car and moderate damage to the right side.

William Henry Cunningham, 17, of Bloomfield was cited by the patrol when his car rammed the rear of another on St. Clair Ave. Ext. a mile north of the city limits yesterday morning.

Officers said a 1960 sedan operated by Linda Sue Cochran, 19, of 109 Indiana Ave., Chester, slowed to make a right turn and was struck from behind by Cunningham's auto. He was charged with speeding.

A car operated by Walter Kuta, 51, of Pittsburgh was damaged when it struck a deer and killed it on Route 154, about a half-mile east of Rogers yesterday afternoon.

St. Clair Police List Activities For October

During the month, officers investigated 30 complaints, two cases of vandalism, two enterings and two traffic mishaps, aided 12 motorists, made one traffic arrest and issued 10 traffic warnings.

Early Ballots Given To 317

About 317 Columbiana County voters obtained civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the general election Tuesday before the deadline passed Thursday at 4 p.m. at the County Election Board's office.

The ballots were required to be back at the board's office today at noon if they're to be counted at the polls.

Applications for the civilian ballots totaled 373, which means that approximately 56 persons who obtained applications did not follow through on the requests.

The so-called "early" ballots still are available for service personnel and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States. These ballots may be issued until noon on Saturday and may be returned to the board's office as late as noon on election day.

Two hundred two have obtained the so-called "soldier" tickets, boosting to 519 the issuance of the early ballots.

The board issued 650 absentee and disabled voters' ballots of all types prior to the last comparable election in 1962. A total of 1,448 were issued prior to the 1964 presidential election.

About 900 viewed the exhibits Thursday from noon until 9. Admission is free.

Seventeen homemakers' groups participated in the two-day event, featuring homemade gifts and ideas for Christmas candies, foods and decorations.

State Representative And State Senator

Columbiana County voters will choose a state representative and will assist in the selection of a state senator in Tuesday's election.

In the representative race, Clarence L. Wetzel, a Republican who resides near Lisbon, is seeking a ninth two-year term.

He is opposed by Roy Allen of Columbiana, a newspaperman.

THE PRESENT illness of Mr. Wetzel necessitated a last-minute realistic reappraisal in the representative contest. His physical condition became a key factor in such a reappraisal.

Based on the latest available medical information, which indicates a satisfactory recovery, we now feel that the contest again can be viewed in its original perspective.

Mr. Wetzel has not been without fault as an elected representative of Columbiana County's voters during his service in the Ohio House.

Particularly displeasing, in our viewpoint, was his failure to take a strong stand on behalf of legislation which would have helped correct the evils of strip mining and his proposal to chop up Columbiana County during the redistricting controversy.

These factors, however, must be weighed against the seniority which Mr. Wetzel has established, against the service which he has performed on behalf of those he represents and against the inexperience of his opponent.

And, of major importance, is the fact that Gov. James A. Rhodes — whom this paper has endorsed as enthusiastically as any candidate it has endorsed over the years — deserves all possible support in continuing the progressive program which has made him one of the outstanding governors in Ohio's history.

We firmly believe Mr. Wetzel is in a better position to supply such support than his opponent.

Mr. Allen has the energetic and fresh approach which proves an asset to a candidate; he has waged an active and aggressive campaign, and he received our endorsement in the primary as the Democratic candidate.

But because of his seniority and because of the vital Rhodes factor mentioned above, we feel Mr. Wetzel should receive the voters' support.

ON THE ABOVE premise, it would seem logical to follow through with the same reasoning in the state Senate race so far as the Ohio General Assembly is concerned.

But the complete lack of political experience on the part of Mr. Longsworth, who is 27 years old, makes a different course necessary.

We feel the Salem resident needs a more extensive background in lesser offices before being endorsed for a post at the state level over an experienced legislative opponent.

Mr. Loha has been engaged in the general practice of law in Steubenville for the last 18 years. He was prosecuting attorney for Jefferson County for four years and city solicitor for the municipalities of Yorkville and Tiltonsville since 1953 to the present time.

He served as a state representative for two terms and, as he himself points out, "knows most of the legislators in both houses" at Columbus, a big step in getting the cooperation necessary to help pass any bills he might introduce or support.

Mr. Loha's experience and Mr. Longsworth's lack of it make the former the logical choice.

The Possibility Of Doubt

It is safe to predict it still will be disturbing them years from now, no matter what is done to supplement the investigation that went into the Warren Commission's work.

The circumstances of the assassination and the events immediately afterward in Dallas created the possibility of doubt. This will be the state of mind of doubters for many years to come.

It will be impossible to sew up the evidence tightly enough to exclude continuing doubt. Even if Oswald had not been killed by Ruby, it is doubtful if the apparent assassin could have dispelled all doubts even if he had wanted to.

Dallas was in such a state of turmoil Nov. 22, 1963, that any one of at least three possible motives for assassinating President Kennedy seemed plausible.

Lyndon B. Johnson and the government officials thought it was a foreign plot to seize the United States, like the plot to kill Abraham Lincoln and his cabinet officers, including the vice president.

Extreme rightists were sure the deed had been done by leftists. Leftists were sure it had been done by rightists. There were reports that Dallas children cheered when they heard the news. Lines of prejudice and hate were so hopelessly criss-crossed in the Texas city that no one could see anything clearly.

Permanent doubt was assured when Ruby pulled the trigger of the gun that killed Oswald. No one ever could be sure from that moment on. The Warren Commission did its best. It could not dissolve the possibility of doubt.

A generation from now the possibility will still be present in the minds of historians.

'Best Seller'

The Hall China Co., in a praiseworthy display of initiative and foresight, has wedded the potters' ancient art with 20th-century invention, producing a casserole with a non-stick lining that should gladden the hearts of housewives everywhere.

The casseroles, featuring a Teflon-coated interior that makes them easy to wash, already are being distributed to retail outlets in many parts of the nation. The company contemplates they will be on sale throughout the United States by early 1967.

Any husband who ever has been pressed into service to help scour pots and pans and other cookware understands the difficulty and frustration of cleaning a casserole after it has been used to cook escalloped potatoes, for instance.

Hall's new development should be a "best seller" in the department stores!

In an industry that has been plagued for years by competition from low labor cost countries, Hall's use of research and development and modern techniques should serve as a commendable example.

The American pottery industry is not dead, as many of its detractors would have one believe, so long as American ingenuity and business enterprise are on the move.

Two Ordeals

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson faces two ordeals — physical and political — with one just as painful as the other. If the doctors are right, he will have to endure the political one a lot longer.

After some surgery, according to the doctors who minimize its gravity, he should soon be back in good physical shape.

But, according to the polls and tradition, Johnson won't be in as good political condition for the next two years as he was in 1965-66, when his Democrats had overwhelming control of both houses of Congress.

Traditionally — and the polls indicate it is going to happen again in next week's balloting — the party in control of Congress loses some seats in a non-presidential, off-year election like this one.

This doesn't mean the Republicans may gain control of Congress. The Republicans themselves, in their wildest dreams, aren't forecasting that. They're mainly predicting they will pick up some House seats.

If they're right, and they probably are, it simply means the big Democratic majority in Congress will be reduced.

JOHNSON HAD great success with this expiring Congress in 1965, less success in 1966, even though the Democrats retain their huge majority in both houses.

Since he suffered troubles and frustrations when his Democrats far outnumbered the Republicans, he can expect even more when there are fewer Democrats to listen to him and more Republicans to challenge him.

On top of that, unless meanwhile something unexpected happens, Johnson will have to continue sweating out the Vietnamese war. The longer it drags on, the more discontent he can expect from Congress and the public.

The doctors decided that, after his Asian trip, he must rest for a while and then have a polyp removed from his throat and repairs made on an abdominal incision that was part of his gall bladder operation last year.

If it hadn't been for this, he might have spent the time between now and next Tuesday's elections in a whirlwind speaking campaign to help his Democrats. Whether that would have done any good at this late date is debatable.

Yet, for a master politician like Johnson, this has been a very strange election season.

JOHNSON HAD made a few campaign speeches and trips, but then, just as the season was reaching its peak, he went off to Manila for a conference about Viet Nam with the leaders of six other nations.

It would seem, if he had his heart set on doing his utmost for the various Democrats in trouble, he would have spent a minimum of time in Manila and then returned here to go on a speaking tour of the country. Instead, he took 17 days to go to Manila, Australia, New Zealand and Asian countries, even though it's still not clear what good this did for American relations with those countries or for bringing Viet Nam peace nearer.

By itself, this was a very unusual and difficult-to-understand performance by a politician like Johnson in this political time, particularly since his chances of getting programs through Congress.

Johnson pitched in and made an all-out effort in 1964 when, just as now, all the House seats and one-third of the Senate seats were at stake. But there was a difference between then and now.

In 1964 he had the most important reason of all for pitching in: he was running for the presidency.

This is the first off-year election since he entered the White House that he could have made a supreme effort for his Democrats when he was not directly involved.

He chose not but he has never explained why.

Odd Facts

The gas ozone, first noted and reported because of its peculiar smell, was named after the Greek word ozein, meaning "to smell." It is used commercially as an antiseptic and bleaching agent, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Lajos Kossuth, 19th-century Hungarian patriot, was the first foreign dignitary to address the United States Senate. He made a triumphal tour of America in 1852 and, in 1958, a special U.S. postage stamp was issued in his honor.

Whipping Things Up!

Chaos Stalls Viet Supplies

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK—To the waterfront here come some of the newest jet set with grim word of what's new on the docksides of the rialtos of South Viet Nam — across which streams the life blood of America's youthful soldiers.

Victor Riesel

The news — brought by maritime union chiefs who now shuttle between two worlds—is bad. The harbors there are cruelly clogged. More than 100 vessels are "on the hook"—idly awaiting unloading.

Docks are jammed because "stevedoring people just don't know their business." Some raw materials have been on the quays for 10 months.

Our military and our civilians and their merchants compete for unloading facilities. Wealthy South Vietnamese merchants deliberately keep warehouses jammed to jack up the prices of merchandise ranging from autos to shoes for the dainty feet of dancing ladies.

If the warehouses stay clogged, ships can't be unloaded. Since 98 per cent of all military and civilian supplies are carried to Viet Nam in American crafts—it's U.S. shipping which is being crippled.

FOR MUCH OF THIS we have the word of Mel Barisic, National Maritime Union vice president in charge of contract enforcement.

He jetted back the other day to report to his chief, Joe Curran, that: "The shipping situation has deteriorated again in recent months after improving considerably. It was bad last January but in Vung Tau, for example, they cut the backlog down to 14 or 15 ships by April. However, when I was there on Oct. 3, they had over 50 ships backed up there waiting to be discharged."

Such backups in the ports of Saigon, Nha Be, and Vung Tau now "total more than 110 ships. Many such craft again are being kept on the hook in those ports up to five and six weeks."

This "represents a serious waste of shipping and manpower," said Barisic.

THIS MEANS that well over a million tons of desperately needed supplies and equipment lie in the holds, men are forced to kill time on "the beach" (or in a brand new seamen's club at Cam Ranh Bay), and mighty scarce freighters ride in stink and sweat at anchor in the China Sea.

Why? One answer comes from the International Longshoremen's Association's bantam leader, Ted Gleason, who never hopped a continent until he went over last year to unclog the port of Saigon.

"Somebody should do something about those Vietnamese war profiteers," said Teddy. "They are brokers and importers who buy the cargo abroad at 10 per cent down. They bring in the stuff, put it in the dockside warehouses and wait for customers.

"The brokers are supposed to get five free days of grace. Then they're supposed to start paying demurrage (charge for warehouse rentals). But most of them get away with it.

"So they just keep their stuff in until they can get a good price, and to hell with what is laying in our ships out in the bay. And, brother, there also are those red tape artists who hand out custom permits. They move with the speed of a glacier of frozen molasses."

SOME OF THESE BROKERS deposit their heavy profits in New York banks—and are now being probed by teams of FBI agents and Internal Revenue Service men.

Though space is tight, so chaotic is the dock clearance, says Barisic, that sheet metal he noted in Saigon last January was still there early in October.

Why?

"They're short in Saigon of all kinds of equipment for handling cargo," says his report—"barges, cranes, slings, pallets, for lifts, etc. They're also short of pilots.

"But from what I noticed there is a good deal which could be done by better organizing and distribution of the equipment they do have. They could be stalled for a lack of pallets in one part of the harbor and have hundreds of them laying unused just a couple of miles away. The same goes for barges, as I found out myself, and this is probably true of other kinds of equipment."

He disclosed that the U.S. military and aid people are "competing to get their cargoes unloaded first instead of working together to get the job done best for all concerned."

Among "all those concerned" are those young troops from Broadway and Elm and Main Streets.

Grin And Bear It

"And when my smart-aleck kid asks, 'What did you do in the war, daddy?', I'd like to hand him a 3-volume set of my memoirs!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As a taxpayer in East Liverpool, there are some questions I would like answered about the operating tax levy.

We hear members of the Board of Education, Mr. Blair others telling us the bad things that are going to happen if we don't vote yes on the levy.

This levy was defeated under another name, now it is needed for operating expenses, instead of increases for salaries for school personnel. So it is no longer known as a maintenance tax levy. Was it changed so it could be put back on the ballot this Nov. 8?

IS THAT WHY the raise was given, knowing they haven't got the money to give it? Are they going to guarantee to keep the better qualified teachers from now on? If so, how are they going to stop larger communities and cities from offering higher wages next year, or the year after? How long can this thing keep going on? Doesn't it have to stop some time?

My taxes have more than doubled since I bought my home in 1955. Can you show me where my wages have doubled since then? Or anyone else's in this area. If you do get a raise, the living costs are increased before the wages are and the taxes go up, so we're back where we started.

It is getting so we are the opposite from the students. They tell us to get better schools, keep qualified teachers, and keep our children at home. Who are they tryng to kid? We can't when the supply is larger than the demand. The opposite to that is, my wages are smaller than the demand.

In The Review of Oct. 29 there was an ad telling what would be put back on if the levy passes, also the curtailments that would not be resumed if the levy is defeated.

Now tell us this. On this list is Home Economics, Industrial Arts, etc. How come they are spending thousands of dollars to build that nice new big arts building and industrial art and home economics and equip it with thousands of dollars in equipment if these courses are to be abolished? Some how this doesn't sound right to me. How about some more of you taxpayers, how does this sound to you?

WHOSE FOLLY is this? Are we going to let this happen? Pay all that money out of our pockets for a nice building to look at? It is time to get some answers on this before it is too late.

We are also told that the auditorium is going to be smaller than originally planned. Now I would like to know if the original plans and cost was larger then the cost now. It is hard for me to think so. Also, how come the state of Ohio became so liberal all of a sudden that they would give so much now and not when it was needed before.

Now my children are not outstanding students as you will find some children to be. I don't blame that on the teachers. My children were average students. Why? Not because of bad teachers, run - down dilapidated schools, but for the reason they didn't apply themselves to do better or have the initiative to do better. There is no one going to make geniuses out of students if they don't have the ability and initiative to do so.

History will tell us some of our great men educated themselves. Others by teachers that had very little education themselves. Why? Because they wanted to learn. And where would America be today if not for them?

JAMES NOTTINGHAM

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The educational program of the East Liverpool City Schools is being jeopardized by a number of misinformed and or disinterested residents of our city.

Concerned persons are struggling to maintain a minimum educational program in our schools. These dedicated few strive to maintain well-qualified teachers. In general, this type of teacher prefers a progressive school system with a well-rounded curriculum and a quality extra-curricular program. Without the passage of the 3.5-mill operating levy, such a program cannot exist in the schools.

We are all faced with the dilemma of raising additional revenue or reducing an already declining program to a skeleton. The failure of the proposed levy would necessitate further reduction of the faculty. We can ill afford this reduction, knowing that the quality of education may also decline.

The program which the levy will finance is altogether reasonable. It is not designed to increase the salaries of teachers; it is designed to provide adequate education for the youth of East Liverpool.

If voters oppose the levy because they are dissatisfied with the administration they themselves elected, it becomes their responsibility to elect persons who they feel are more qualified. This dissatisfaction should not take the form of uncritical thinking on an almost totally unrelated issue.

The Nov. 8 voting will profoundly affect our educational program. The education and welfare of youth is of greatest importance to the future of our community and of our nation. We encourage all voters to learn all the facts of our community and of our nation. We encourage all voters to learn all the facts and to vote intelligently.

ON THE ABOVE premise, it would seem logical to follow through with the same reasoning in the state Senate race so far as the Ohio General Assembly is concerned.

But the complete lack of political experience on the part of Mr. Longsworth, who is 27 years old, makes a different course necessary.

We feel the Salem resident needs a more extensive background in lesser offices before being endorsed for a post at the state level over an experienced legislative opponent.

Mr. Loha has been engaged in the general practice of law in Steubenville for the last 18 years. He was prosecuting attorney for Jefferson County for four years and city solicitor for the municipalities of Yorkville and Tiltonsville since 1953 to the present time.

He served as a state representative for two terms and, as he himself points out, "knows most of the legislators in both houses" at Columbus, a big step in getting the cooperation necessary to help pass any bills he might introduce or support.

Mr. Loha's experience and Mr. Longsworth's lack of it make the former the logical choice.

The Possibility Of Doubt

It is safe to predict it still will be disturbing them years from now, no matter what is done to supplement the investigation that went into the Warren Commission's work.

The circumstances of the assassination and the events immediately afterward in Dallas created the possibility of doubt. This will be the state of mind of doubters for many years to come.

It will be impossible to sew up the evidence tightly enough to exclude continuing doubt. Even if Oswald had not been killed by Ruby, it is doubtful if the apparent assassin could have dispelled all doubts even if he had wanted to.

Dallas was in such a state of turmoil Nov. 22, 1963, that any one of at least three possible motives for assassinating President Kennedy seemed plausible.

Lyndon B. Johnson and the government officials thought it was a foreign plot to seize the United States, like the plot to kill Abraham Lincoln and his cabinet officers, including the vice president.

Extreme rightists were sure the deed had been done by leftists. Leftists were sure it had been done by rightists. There were reports that Dallas children cheered when they heard the news. Lines of prejudice and hate were so hopelessly criss-crossed in the Texas city that no one could see anything clearly.

Permanent doubt was assured when Ruby pulled the trigger of the gun that killed Oswald. No one ever could be sure from that moment on. The Warren Commission did its best. It could not dissolve the possibility of doubt.

A generation from now the possibility will still be present in the minds of historians.

'Best Seller'

The Hall China Co., in a praiseworthy display of initiative and foresight, has wedded the potters' ancient art with 20th-century invention, producing a casserole with a non-stick lining that should gladden the hearts of housewives everywhere.

The casseroles, featuring a Teflon-coated interior that makes them easy to wash, already are being distributed to retail outlets in many parts of the nation. The company contemplates they will be on sale throughout the United States by early 1967.

Any husband who ever has been pressed into service to help scour pots and pans and other cookware understands the difficulty and frustration of cleaning a casserole after it has been used to cook escalloped potatoes, for instance.

Hall's new development should be a "best seller" in the department stores!

In an industry that has been plagued for years by competition from low labor cost countries, Hall's use of research and development and modern techniques should serve as a commendable example.

The American pottery industry is not dead, as many of its detractors would have one believe, so long as American ingenuity and business enterprise are on the move.

Two Ordeals

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson faces two ordeals — physical and political — with one just as painful as the other. If the doctors are right, he will have to endure the political one a lot longer.

After some surgery, according to the doctors who minimize its gravity, he should soon be back in good physical shape.

But, according to the polls and tradition, Johnson won't be in as good political condition for the next two years as he was in 1965-66, when his Democrats had overwhelming control of both houses of Congress.

Traditionally — and the polls indicate it is going to happen again in next week's balloting — the party in control of Congress loses some seats in a non-presidential, off-year election like this one.

This doesn't mean the Republicans may gain control of Congress. The Republicans themselves, in their wildest dreams, aren't forecasting that. They're mainly predicting they will pick up some House seats.

If they're right, and they probably are, it simply means the big Democratic majority in Congress will be reduced.

JOHNSON HAD great success with this expiring Congress in 1965, less success in 1966, even though the Democrats retain their huge majority in both houses.

Since he suffered troubles and frustrations when his Democrats far outnumbered the Republicans, he can expect even more when there are fewer Democrats to listen to him and more Republicans to challenge him.

On top of that, unless meanwhile something unexpected happens, Johnson will have to continue sweating out the Vietnamese war. The longer it drags on, the more discontent he can expect from Congress and the public.

The doctors decided that, after his Asian trip, he must rest for a while and then have a polyp removed from his throat and repairs made on an abdominal incision that was part of his gall bladder operation last year.

If it hadn't been for this, he might have spent the time between now and next Tuesday's elections in a whirlwind speaking campaign to help his Democrats. Whether that would have done any good at this late date is debatable.

Yet, for a master politician like Johnson, this has been a very strange election season.

JOHNSON HAD made a few campaign speeches and trips, but then, just as the season was reaching its peak, he went off to Manila for a conference about Viet Nam with the leaders of six other nations.

It would seem, if he had his heart set on doing his utmost for the various Democrats in trouble, he would have spent a minimum of time in Manila and then returned here to go on a speaking tour of the country. Instead, he took 17 days to go to Manila, Australia, New Zealand and Asian countries, even though it's still not clear what good this did for American relations with those countries or for bringing Viet Nam peace nearer.

By itself, this was a very unusual and difficult-to-understand performance by a politician like Johnson in this political time, particularly since his chances of getting programs through Congress.

Johnson pitched in and made an all-out effort in 1964 when, just as now, all the House seats and one-third of the Senate seats were at stake. But there was a difference between then and now.

In 1964 he had the most important reason of all for pitching in: he was running for the presidency.

This is the first off-year election since he entered the White House that he could have made a supreme effort for his Democrats when he was not directly involved.

He chose not but he has never explained why.

Odd Facts

The gas ozone, first noted and reported because of its peculiar smell, was named after the Greek word ozein, meaning "to smell." It is used commercially as an antiseptic and bleaching agent, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Lajos Kossuth, 19th-century Hungarian patriot, was the first foreign dignitary to address the United States Senate. He made a triumphal tour of America in 1852 and, in 1958, a special U.S. postage stamp was issued in his honor.

Whipping Things Up!

Chaos Stalls Viet Supplies

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK—To the waterfront here come some of the newest jet set with grim word of what's new on the docksides of the rialtos of South Viet Nam — across which streams the life blood of America's youthful soldiers.

Victor Riesel

The news — brought by maritime union chiefs who now shuttle between two worlds—is bad. The harbors there are cruelly clogged. More than 100 vessels are "on the hook"—idly awaiting unloading.

Docks are jammed because "stevedoring people just don't know their business." Some raw materials have been on the quays for 10 months.

Our military and our civilians and their merchants compete for unloading facilities. Wealthy South Vietnamese merchants deliberately keep warehouses jammed to jack up the prices of merchandise ranging from autos to shoes for the dainty feet of dancing ladies.

If the warehouses stay clogged, ships can't be unloaded. Since 98 per cent of all military and civilian supplies are carried to Viet Nam in American crafts—it's U.S. shipping which is being crippled.

FOR MUCH OF THIS we have the word of Mel Barisic, National Maritime Union vice president in charge of contract enforcement.

He jetted back the other day to report to his chief, Joe Curran, that: "The shipping situation has deteriorated again in recent months after improving considerably. It was bad last January but in Vung Tau, for example, they cut the backlog down to 14 or 15 ships by April. However, when I was there on Oct. 3, they had over 50 ships backed up there waiting to be discharged."

Such backups in the ports of Saigon, Nha Be, and Vung Tau now "total more than 110 ships. Many such craft again are being kept on the hook in those ports up to five and six weeks."

This "represents a serious waste of shipping and manpower," said Barisic.

THIS MEANS that well over a million tons of desperately needed supplies and equipment lie in the holds, men are forced to kill time on "the beach" (or in a brand new seamen's club at Cam Ranh Bay), and mighty scarce freighters ride in stink and sweat at anchor in the China Sea.

Why? One answer comes from the International Longshoremen's Association's bantam leader, Ted Gleason, who never hopped a continent until he went over last year to unclog the port of Saigon.

"Somebody should do something about those Vietnamese war profiteers," said Teddy. "They are brokers and importers who buy the cargo abroad at 10 per cent down. They bring in the stuff, put it in the dockside warehouses and wait for customers.

"The brokers are supposed to get five free days of grace. Then they're supposed to start paying demurrage (charge for warehouse rentals). But most of them get away with it.

"So they just keep their stuff in until they can get a good price, and to hell with what is laying in our ships out in the bay. And, brother, there also are those red tape artists who hand out custom permits. They move with the speed of a glacier of frozen molasses."

SOME OF THESE BROKERS deposit their heavy profits in New York banks—and are now being probed by teams of FBI agents and Internal Revenue Service men.

Though space is tight, so chaotic is the dock clearance, says Barisic, that sheet metal he noted in Saigon last January was still there early in October.

Why?

"They're short in Saigon of all kinds of equipment for handling cargo," says his report—"barges, cranes, slings, pallets, for lifts, etc. They're also short of pilots.

"But from what I noticed there is a good deal which could be done by better organizing and distribution of the equipment they do have. They could be stalled for a lack of pallets in one part of the harbor and have hundreds of them laying unused just a couple of miles away. The same goes for barges, as I found out myself, and this is probably true of other kinds of equipment."

He disclosed that the U.S. military and aid people are "competing to get their cargoes unloaded first instead of working together to get the job done best for all concerned."

Among "all those concerned" are those young troops from Broadway and Elm and Main Streets.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As a taxpayer in East Liverpool, there are some questions I would like answered about the operating tax levy.

We hear members of the Board of Education, Mr. Blair others telling us the bad things that are going to happen if we don't vote yes on the levy.

This levy was defeated under another name, now it is needed for operating expenses, instead of increases for salaries for school personnel. So it is no longer known as a maintenance tax levy. Was it changed so it could be put back on the ballot this Nov. 8?

IS THAT WHY the raise was given, knowing they haven't got the money to give it? Are they going to guarantee to keep the better qualified teachers from now on? If so, how are they going to stop larger communities and cities from offering higher wages next year, or the year after? How long can this thing keep going on? Doesn't it have to stop some time?

My taxes have more than doubled since I bought my home in 1955. Can you show me where my wages have doubled since then? Or anyone else's in this area. If you do get a raise, the living costs are increased before the wages are and the taxes go up, so we're back where we started.

It is getting so we are the opposite from the students. They tell us to get better schools, keep qualified teachers, and keep our children at home. Who are they tryng to kid? We can't when the supply is larger than the demand. The opposite to that is, my wages are smaller than the demand.

In The Review of Oct. 29 there was an ad telling what would be put back on if the levy passes, also the curtailments that would not be resumed if the levy is defeated.

Now tell us this. On this list is Home Economics, Industrial Arts, etc. How come they are spending thousands of dollars to build that nice new big arts building and industrial art and home economics and equip it with thousands of dollars in equipment if these courses are to be abolished? Some how this doesn't sound right to me. How about some more of you taxpayers, how does this sound to you?

WHOSE FOLLY is this? Are we going to let this happen? Pay all that money out of our pockets for a nice building to look at? It is time to get some answers on this before it is too late.

We are also told that the auditorium is going to be smaller than originally planned. Now I would like to know if the original plans and cost was larger then the cost now. It is hard for me to think so. Also, how come the state of Ohio became so liberal all of a sudden that they would give so much now and not when it was needed before.

Now my children are not outstanding students as you will find some children to be. I don't blame that on the teachers. My children were average students. Why? Not because of bad teachers, run - down dilapidated schools, but for the reason they didn't apply themselves to do better or have the initiative to do better. There is no one going to make geniuses out of students if they don't have the ability and initiative to do so.

History will tell us some of our great men educated themselves. Others by teachers that had very little education themselves. Why? Because they wanted to learn. And where would America be today if not for them?

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The educational program of the East Liverpool City Schools is being jeopardized by a number of misinformed and/or disinterested residents of our city.

Concerned persons are struggling to maintain a minimum educational program in our schools. These dedicated few strive to maintain well-qualified teachers. In general, this type of teacher prefers a progressive school system with a well-rounded curriculum and a quality extra-curricular program. Without the passage of the 3.5-mill operating levy, such a program cannot exist in the schools.

We are all faced with the dilemma of raising additional revenue or reducing an already declining program to a skeleton. The failure of the proposed levy would necessitate further reduction of the faculty. We can ill afford this reduction, knowing that the quality of education may also decline.

The program which the levy will finance is altogether reasonable. It is not designed to increase the salaries of teachers; it is designed to provide adequate education for the youth of East Liverpool.

If voters oppose the levy because they are dissatisfied with the administration they themselves elected, it becomes their responsibility to elect persons who they feel are more qualified. This dissatisfaction should not take the form of uncritical thinking on an almost totally unrelated issue.

The Nov. 8 voting will profoundly affect our educational program. The education and welfare of youth is of greatest importance to the future of our community and of our nation. We encourage all voters to learn all the facts of our community and of our nation. We encourage all voters to learn all the facts and to vote intelligently.

completed will be more than $1,186,000. Funds for the project came from Gov. Rhodes' $100 million capital improvements program for outdoor recreation.

THE IMPOUNDMENT of water will not be completed until the road relocation is finished, so that traffic north and south through the area will not be curtailed.

During the ceremony, Morr also elaborated on other capital improvement projects in Columbiana County.

At Beaver Creek State Park, he said additional acres are needed to develop "one of the finest and most scenic state parks in Ohio." The Real Estate Section of the department has been working in the area.

The director pointed out "that this work is carried out quietly in order to avoid land speculation in the area that would prove costly to Ohio taxpayers" He also explained that there is a great deal of detail work and records examination entailed in the real estate program.

Planned for Beaver Creek is a development program extending over several years, including water and sanitary facilities, new roads and parking areas, many miles of hiking and riding trails, extensive picnic facilities, several hundred modern camp sites and the restoration and "presentation of the fine historical features of the park for visitor enjoyment."

"Our intent in the development at Beaver Creek State Park is to emphasize the scenic and historical features unique in this particular area", said Morr, "because of Gov. Rhodes' great interest in the heritage of this state."

There will be a total investment of more than $650,000 at the park and all new facilities should be completed by the end of 1968.

Guilford Lake State Park is also scheduled to receive improvements, with $85,000 allocated for resurfacing park roads and parking lots and for major renovations on the dam at the lake. Some 2½ miles of entrance roads were resurfaced late last summer.

A new fishing pier will be built at Zepernick Wildlife Area to round out the Department of Natural Resources capital improvements program in Columbiana County.

The total investment by the state of Ohio to improve and expand outdoor recreation opportunities in the county will amount to approximately $2,015,000 by the end of 1968, Morr said.

Council OK's Road Closing In Ohioville

The closing of Deringer Rd. near the Fairview Elementary School was approved when Ohioville Council met Thursday night.

The finance committee, headed by Richard Rice, will meet Wednesday night at the Borough Building to prepare a tentative budget for 1967.

Judge Suspends Term In Jobless Benefits Fraud

A Gardendale man who pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a charge of obtaining unemployment benefits by fraud was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to a 90-day County Jail term, but Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp suspended the penalty on condition the defendant makes restitution within a year.

Oswald Lovejoy of Meakin St. was named in an affidavit signed by Victor DeGeorge, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, alleging specifically that Lovejoy collected $53 in benefits for the calendar week ending March 19.

Questioned by the judge, DeGeorge said Lovejoy collected a total of $424 in benefits over eight weeks. The affidavit said Lovejoy received the money "by means of an intentional false certification that he was unemployed and had no earnings."

DeGeorge told the judge defendants in such cases frequently are allowed to make restitution in "installments." The judge warned Lovejoy he could have been sentenced to a term of six months in jail for the violation.

completed will be more than $1,186,000. Funds for the project came from Gov. Rhodes' $100 million capital improvements program for outdoor recreation.

THE IMPOUNDMENT of water will not be completed until the road relocation is finished, so that traffic north and south through the area will not be curtailed.

During the ceremony, Morr also elaborated on other capital improvement projects in Columbiana County.

At Beaver Creek State Park, he said additional acres are needed to develop "one of the finest and most scenic state parks in Ohio." The Real Estate Section of the department has been working in the area.

The director pointed out "that this work is carried out quietly in order to avoid land speculation in the area that would prove costly to Ohio taxpayers." He also explained that there is a great deal of detail work and records examination entailed in the real estate program.

Planned for Beaver Creek is a development program extending over several years, including water and sanitary facilities, new roads and parking areas, many miles of hiking and riding trails, extensive picnic facilities, several hundred modern camp sites and the restoration and "presentation of the fine historical features of the park for visitor enjoyment."

"Our intent in the development at Beaver Creek State Park is to emphasize the scenic and historical features unique in this particular area", said Morr, "because of Gov. Rhodes' great interest in the heritage of this state."

There will be a total investment of more than $650,000 at the park and all new facilities should be completed by the end of 1968.

Guilford Lake State Park is also scheduled to receive improvements, with $85,000 allocated for resurfacing park roads and parking lots and for major renovations on the dam at the lake. Some 2½ miles of entrance roads were resurfaced late last summer.

A new fishing pier will be built at Zepernick Wildlife Area to round out the Department of Natural Resources capital improvements program in Columbiana County.

The total investment by the state of Ohio to improve and expand outdoor recreation opportunities in the county will amount to approximately $2,015,000 by the end of 1968, Morr said.

Council OK's Road Closing In Ohioville

The closing of Deringer Rd. near the Fairview Elementary School was approved when Ohioville Council met Thursday night.

In a letter to Council, Dr. Vern Watson and Harold V. Shank, property owners of the area, requested the road be vacated because the Fairview School addition is being constructed adjacent to the road.

The finance committee, headed by Richard Rice, will meet Wednesday night at the Borough Building to prepare a tentative budget for 1967.

Judge Suspends Term In Jobless Benefits Fraud

A Gardendale man who pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a charge of obtaining unemployment benefits by fraud was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to a 90-day County Jail term, but Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp suspended the penalty on condition the defendant makes restitution within a year.

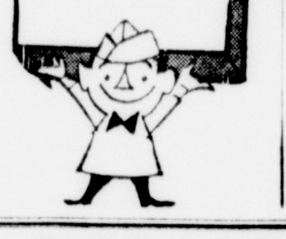

Oswald Lovejoy of Meakin St. was named in an affidavit signed by Victor DeGeorge, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, alleging specifically that Lovejoy collected $53 in benefits for the calendar week ending March 19.

Questioned by the judge, DeGeorge said Lovejoy collected a total of $424 in benefits over eight weeks. The affidavit said Lovejoy received the money "by means of an intentional false certification that he was unemployed and had no earnings."

DeGeorge told the judge defendants in such cases frequently are allowed to make restitution in "installments." The judge warned Lovejoy he could have been sentenced to a term of six months in jail for the violation.

Chertoff Presented Watch From Judges' Organization

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, preparing to retire after a year's service as president of the North American Judges' Association, was presented with an engraved gold wrist watch Thursday at the organization's international conference in Colorado Springs, Col.

The watch is engraved with a message thanking the local jurist for his leadership and noting the dates of his service. He will be succeeded by Judge E. B. Lee of Oklahoma City, who was named president-elect at the 1965 convention in Quebec.

As immediate past president, he automatically will serve a year's term on the organization's board of governors. He also was elected to a three-year term on the board.

In one of his final acts as president, Judge Chertoff presided over a stormy session in which the organization voted to move its headquarters out of Denver. The headquarters has been in Denver since the group was formed in 1959.

Judge and Mrs. Chertoff left Oct. 27 to attend the convention. Approximately 500 judges from all over the U. S. and parts of Canada and Mexico are attending the meeting at the Broadmoor Hotel.

The convention has been under way since Sunday. It was preceded by a daylong seminar on traffic safety sponsored by the NAJA and the American Bar Association.

The association also dedicated a monument and plaque commemorating its founding.

Taped Messages Offered Families Of Men Overseas

The annual Area Red Cross "Voices From Home" program again is being sponsored for the benefit of overseas servicemen and their families.

Charles B. Lang, chairman of the Chapter's Service to Military Families Committee, said the program is being held with the assistance of Eckert's Camera Mart, which will supply tape for recording, and radio station WOHI, which will furnish the recording facilities.

The Red Cross office at the Mary Patterson Memorial will make appointments for families who have men in the military services overseas to record their Christmas messages at the radio station.

Lang said there is no charge for the service. The chapter also will photograph the family members who have made the recording for mailing with the tape.

Announcements of the service were mailed today to area industries and businesses asking they notify their employes of the availability of the program to families of servicemen.

Relief Vessels Steam Toward U.S. Sub On Reef

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Relief ships steamed today toward the U.S. submarine Tiru, aground on a reef 300 miles off the northeast coast of Australia. The sub reported none of its 80 men was injured and the ship appeared to be in no immediate danger.

The Tiru was reported lodged above the surface of the water on Frederick Reef, in the Coral Sea due east of Port Mackay and about 75 miles off the Great Barrier Reef.

U.S. naval authorities in Hawaii said the crew made an unsuccessful attempt to float the submarine at high tide shortly after midnight EST.

The Tiru, built in 1947 at Mare Island Navy Yard in California, is 326 feet long. She is of the 1,526-ton Balao class and has ten 21-inch torpedo tubes.

Help Gov. Rhodes Bring More and Better Jobs to Columbiana County ELECT
John Longsworth
STATE SENATOR
30th District
Gov. James A. Rhodes says: "I need John Longsworth in Ohio's legislature to help keep our state and Columbiana County moving ahead."

(Paid Political Advertisement)

For Many Years, All Major Newspapers In The 18th District Have
Endorsed WAYNE L. HAYS For RE-ELECTION
We Thought YOU Might Like To Read What Newspapers Outside Of The 18th District, and some even Outside of Ohio, have said about
YOUR CONGRESSMAN

THE GIMLET EYE OF MR. HAYS
We were sorry to see the State Department walk up Capitol Hill with requests for a $300,000 home for the U.S. Ambassador to Cyprus and a $1,370,000 apartment building for U.S. diplomats in Japan. Because it just got itself kicked unceremoniously down again by Representative WAYNE HAYS, Ohio Democrat, and chairman of a House subcommittee which passes on oversea construction for U.S. diplomats.
Of the Cyprus project, Mr. Hays said: "Even Billie Sol Estes only lives in a $150,000 house." And: "There are only 587,000 people on the whole island." Of the apartment proposal, he said: "You are going to get that over my dead body." He added that there has to be an end someplace to sending innumerable people to Japan and that this is a good place to start.
The upshot of the Department's collision with the Congressman from Ohio is that the figures for both projects will be reworked without, one supposes, doing U.S. diplomacy irreparable harm.
The taxpayer watching this exchange can't help wondering what would happen to Federal expenditures generally if every congressional committee had on it just one gimlet-eyed HAYS.

(From the Lorain (Ohio) Journal, May 9, 1962)
AN OHIOAN PROTESTS
One Congressman who speaks out bluntly against some of the ridiculously wasteful practices of the foreign aid program is an Ohioan, Representative WAYNE L. HAYS.
Congressman HAYS, whose home is at Flushing, Ohio, represents the 18th District, comprised of Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison, and Jefferson Counties (together with Monroe, Noble, and Tuscarawas Counties added and less Carroll County lost in 1966). He is a Democrat. He was first elected to the 81st Congress in 1948, and has been reelected in succeeding terms.
Just for the record, it is briefly mentioned that Mr. HAYS has a solid background. He is a college graduate, a former teacher of history, was mayor of Flushing for three terms, volunteered for military service in World War II, served a term in the Ohio Senate, and served as a county commissioner in Belmont County.
In other words, he has adequate educational qualifications and extensive political experience.
Obviously, Representative HAYS can speak with as much authority about some of the flaws of foreign aid as various other Congressmen, bemused with the theory of giving away money to win friends can speak of its merits.
The question is, How can Congressman HAYS retain his clear vision in the Washington atmosphere that seems to becloud the eyes of many of his compatriots on the foreign aid issue?
Whatever the answer to that question may be, Mr. HAYS deserves encouragement from all parts of the State and Nation to continue to fight against foreign aid wastefulness.

(From the Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer May 6, 1966)
ATTA BOY — WAYNE HAYS BRINGS NEEDED FRANK TALK TO DIPLOMATIC WORLD
HAYS, who headed a four-member congressional delegation to this semi-annual parliamentary get-together, took advantage of the opportunity to get something off his chest respecting French President De Gaulle's NATO antics. Breaking through the camouflage of diplomatic double talk he asked his hearers who needs enemies with friends like the French around.
This newspaper never has succeeded in working up much indignation over DeGaulle's performance because it is disposed to applaud rather than decry nationalism and independence wherever they appear, and because we feel that the less responsibility we have for the defense of Europe or any Country of Europe the better off we will be. But giving him the benefit of every consideration, DeGaulle is a difficult man to love. That he has as HAYS so forcibly told his official representatives at Strasbourg, undermined much of the historic good will Americans have held for France, there can be no doubt.
For what this is worth to them, it is something, as HAYS says, the French should know about. They never would know it were the niceties of diplomatic exchange relied upon to get the knowledge over to them. So we say bully for WAYNE!

Chertoff Presented Watch From Judges' Organization

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, preparing to retire after a year's service as president of the North American Judges' Association, was presented with an engraved gold wrist watch Thursday at the organization's international conference in Colorado Springs, Col.

The watch is engraved with a message thanking the local jurist for his leadership and noting the dates of his service. He will be succeeded by Judge E. B. Lee of Oklahoma City, who was named president-elect at the 1965 convention in Quebec.

As immediate past president, he automatically will serve a year's term on the organization's board of governors. He also was elected to a three-year term on the board.

In one of his final acts as president, Judge Chertoff presided over a stormy session in which the organization voted to move its headquarters out of Denver. The headquarters has been in Denver since the group was formed in 1959.

Judge and Mrs. Chertoff left Oct. 27 to attend the convention. Approximately 500 judges from all over the U. S. and parts of Canada and Mexico are attending the meeting at the Broadmoor Hotel.

The convention has been under way since Sunday. It was preceded by a daylong seminar on traffic safety sponsored by the NAJA and the American Bar Association.

The association also dedicated a monument and plaque commemorating its founding.

Lang said there is no charge for the service. The chapter also will photograph the family members who have made the recording for mailing with the tape.

Announcements of the service were mailed today to area industries and businesses asking they notify their employes of the availability of the program to families of servicemen.

Relief Vessels Steam Toward U.S. Sub On Reef

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Relief ships steamed today toward the U.S. submarine Tiru, aground on a reef 300 miles off the northeast coast of Australia. The sub reported none of its 80 men was injured and the ship appeared to be in no immediate danger.

The Tiru was reported lodged above the surface of the water on Frederick Reef, in the Coral Sea due east of Port Mackay and about 75 miles off the Great Barrier Reef.

U.S. naval authorities in Hawaii said the crew made an unsuccessful attempt to float the submarine at high tide shortly after midnight EST.

The Tiru, built in 1947 at Mare Island Navy Yard in California, is 326 feet long. She is of the 1,526-ton Balao class and has ten 21-inch torpedo tubes.

For Many Years, All Major Newspapers In The 18th District Have
Endorsed WAYNE L. HAYS For RE-ELECTION
We Thought YOU Might Like To Read What Newspapers Outside Of The 18th District, and some even Outside of Ohio, have said about
YOUR CONGRESSMAN

THE GIMLET EYE OF MR. HAYS
We were sorry to see the State Department walk up Capitol Hill with requests for a $500,000 home for the U.S. Ambassador to Cyprus and a $1,370,000 apartment building for U.S. diplomats in Japan. Because it just got itself kicked unceremoniously down again by Representative WAYNE HAYS, Ohio Democrat, and chairman of a House subcommittee which passes on oversea construction for U.S. diplomats.
Of the Cyprus project, Mr. Hays said: "Even Billie Sol Estes only lives in a $150,000 house." And: "There are only 587,000 people on the whole island." Of the apartment proposal, he said: "You are going to get that over my dead body." He added that there has to be an end someplace to sending innumerable people to Japan and that this is a good place to start.
The upshot of the Department's collision with the Congressman from Ohio is that the figures for both projects will be reworked without, one supposes, doing U.S. diplomacy irreparable harm.
The taxpayer watching this exchange can't help wondering what would happen to Federal expenditures generally if every congressional committee had on it just one gimlet-eyed HAYS.

(From the Lorain (Ohio) Journal, May 9, 1962)
AN OHIOAN PROTESTS
One Congressman who speaks out bluntly against some of the ridiculously wasteful practices of the foreign aid program is an Ohioan, Representative WAYNE L. HAYS.
Congressman HAYS, whose home is at Flushing, Ohio, represents the 18th District, comprised of Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison, and Jefferson Counties (together with Monroe, Noble, and Tuscarawas Counties added and less Carroll County lost in 1966). He is a Democrat. He was first elected to the 81st Congress in 1948, and has been reelected in succeeding terms.
Just for the record, it is briefly mentioned that Mr. HAYS has a solid background. He is a college graduate, a former teacher of history, was mayor of Flushing for three terms, volunteered for military service in World War II, served a term in the Ohio Senate, and served as a county commissioner in Belmont County.
In other words, he has adequate educational qualifications and extensive political experience.
Obviously, Representative HAYS can speak with as much authority about some of the flaws of foreign aid as various other Congressmen, bemused with the theory of giving away money to win friends can speak of its merits.
The question is, How can Congressman HAYS retain his clear vision in the Washington atmosphere that seems to becloud the eyes of many of his compatriots on the foreign aid issue?
Whatever the answer to that question may be, Mr. HAYS deserves encouragement from all parts of the State and Nation to continue to fight against foreign aid wastefulness.

(From the Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer May 6, 1966)

Man Fighting Officer Gets 40-Day Term

A North Side man accused of putting up a violent struggle with a police officer after he had been arrested for a domestic disturbance Thursday afternoon was sentenced to a 40-day term in County Jail on two charges today in Municipal Court and fined $10 and costs on a third count.

Joseph Tenley of North St. pleaded guilty to all three charges before Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp — intoxication, assault and battery and "knowingly and wilfully resisting a police officer."

Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes testified that Tenley put up a violent struggle after he was placed under arrest at his home. At one point, the officer said, Tenley attempted to hurl him over the bannister of an outside flight of steps.

A neighbor who noted the struggle called police headquarters and two or three more officers were dispatched to assist Hayes.

"I believe the citizen who called headquarters should be commended," the officer said this morning. "Too many times, a citizen will just stand by and make no move to assist an officer when he is in trouble."

Tenley was sentenced to a 30-day term on the charge of resisting arrest and given another 10-day term and a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of assault and battery on Maxine Menough, also of North St. He was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

The judge ordered that the 30-day term and the 10-day sentence will run consecutively. He also ordered that Tenley will be held in jail an additional time if he does not pay the $100 fine.

"That means you will spend at least 40 days in the County Jail," he told the defendant.

After Tenley pleaded guilty, the judge examined his police record. He commented that Tenley "has a lengthy record dating back to 1957."

Hayes said he was dispatched to the home on a report of a domestic disturbance. He said he found the Menough woman lying on the floor crying and Tenley standing nearby, holding a child.

Tenley said he intended to leave, but the officer told him not to depart because the child was not dressed for cold weather. Tenley refused to heed the officer, leading to his arrest.

"Was there much of a struggle?" the acting judge said.

"Well, he tried to push me over an outside bannister when I was taking him out," the officer said. "It was quite a drop to the ground."

Wellsville China Picketed Briefly

Decorating shop employes set up a picket line early this morning at the Wellsville China Co., but withdrew within a short time at the request of Wayne Rose, president of IBOP Local 24, the company said.

The company termed the action "an illegal work stoppage which took place without the knowledge or consent of Local 24 or international headquarters." Rose, advised of the action, asked the pickets to withdraw and they complied, the firm said. Most of the employes reported for work within a few minutes of their normal starting times, the company said.

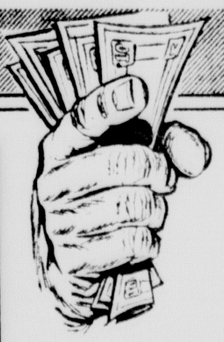

Management and representatives of the local union and the international had scheduled a meeting at 10 this morning to discuss the decorators' grievance. Later, the meeting was rescheduled until Monday.

Wellsville China Picketed Briefly

Decorating shop employes set up a picket line early this morning at the Wellsville China Co., but withdrew within a short time at the request of Wayne Rose, president of IBOP Local 24, the company said.

The company termed the action "an illegal work stoppage which took place without the knowledge or consent of Local 24 or international headquarters." Rose, advised of the action, asked the pickets to withdraw and they complied, the firm said. Most of the employes reported for work within a few minutes of their normal starting times, the company said.

Management and representatives of the local union and the international had scheduled a meeting at 10 this morning to discuss the decorators' grievance. Later, the meeting was rescheduled until Monday.

Man Fighting Officer Gets 40-Day Term

A North Side man accused of putting up a violent struggle with a police officer after he had been arrested for a domestic disturbance Thursday afternoon was sentenced to a 40-day term in County Jail on two charges today in Municipal Court and fined $10 and costs on a third count.

Joseph Tenley of North St. pleaded guilty to all three charges before Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp — intoxication, assault and battery and "knowingly and wilfully resisting a police officer."

Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes testified that Tenley put up a violent struggle after he was placed under arrest at his home. At one point, the officer said, Tenley attempted to hurl him over the bannister of an outside flight of steps.

A neighbor who noted the struggle called police headquarters and two or three more officers were dispatched to assist Hayes.

"I believe the citizen who called headquarters should be commended," the officer said this morning. "Too many times, a citizen will just stand by and make no move to assist an officer when he is in trouble."

Tenley was sentenced to a 30-day term on the charge of resisting arrest and given another 10-day term and a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of assault and battery on Maxine Menough, also of North St. He was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

The judge ordered that the 30-day term and the 10-day sentence will run consecutively. He also ordered that Tenley will be held in jail an additional time if he does not pay the $100 fine.

"That means you will spend at least 40 days in the County Jail," he told the defendant.

After Tenley pleaded guilty, the judge examined his police record. He commented that Tenley "has a lengthy record dating back to 1957."

Hayes said he was dispatched to the home on a report of a domestic disturbance. He said he found the Menough woman lying on the floor crying and Tenley standing nearby, holding a child.

Tenley said he intended to leave, but the officer told him not to depart because the child was not dressed for cold weather. Tenley refused to heed the officer, leading to his arrest.

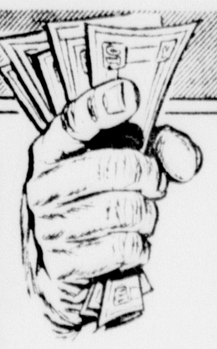

"Was there much of a struggle?" the acting judge said.

"Well, he tried to push me over an outside bannister when I was taking him out," the officer said. "It was quite a drop to the ground."

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shompooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystaline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery.

Miss Lucinda Ward Weds At Ceremonies In Celina

Miss Lucinda Ward became the bride of Timothy H. Wilson the evening of Oct. 22 at 7:30 o'clock in the Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church of Celina, with the Rev. Robert Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, officiating.

MRS. TIMOTHY WILSON

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

FALLACY:
The November birthstone has to be a genuine Topaz.
FACT:
Topaz is the November stone, symbolizing loyalty, but the Citrine, or "Topaz Quartz", is widely used as Topaz. The common color for both Citrine and Topaz is yellow, and the golden glow of these stones makes them ideal for jewelry. Each may be worn as the birthstone for November and each is a genuine stone.

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

by W. D. ORR

FALLACY:
The November birthstone has to be a genuine Topaz.

FACT:
Topaz is the November stone, symbolizing loyalty, but the Citrine, or "Topaz Quartz", is widely used as Topaz. The common color for both Citrine and Topaz is yellow, and the golden glow of these stones makes them ideal for jewelry. Each may be worn as the birthstone for November and each is a genuine stone.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shompooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystaline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery.

is not an automatic." He said this gun has a "heavy pull" on the trigger—about seven pounds pressure for single action firing and 12 pounds for double action.

Hopkins also testified the gun came to him with four shells and two spent or fired cartridges in the cylinder.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan has testified earlier that was the condition of the revolver when Deputy Sheriff Howard Gray turned it over to him.

Law enforcement officers — East Liverpool police and sheriff's deputies — testified yesterday the gun was not disturbed from the time Patrolman Leonard Richard got it from a bureau in Copestick's home shortly after the shooting until it was turned over to the sheriff.

The state established Wednesday that Mrs. Copestick was shot five times in the head. Her brother, Woodrow Pelfrey, 16, testified he heard six shots.

Sheriff Van Fossan said two spent cartridges were found in addition to the two in the cylinder. Both were in the car along with two boxes of shells, one full and one containing 10 shells.

SEVERAL acquaintances of the defendant testified about the gun and two of them said he called it "the equalizer."

They said the conversation took place the afternoon of June 18 at the home of Mrs. Clara Chipps, 128 E. 2nd St. here.

James H. Williams of 1040 St. Clair Ave. testified he was at the home of his mother, Mrs. Chipps, working on a car in the yard. He said Charles and two other fellows were watching him work and Charles showed them a gun in a box. "It was a small six-shot pistol, black with a white handle."

Williams said he has known Copestick four or five years. "Did you ever see him with a gun before?" asked James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecutor. "No, I never did," Williams answered. He recalled there were two boxes of shells in the box with the gun.

Charles was in the Chipps house a little later with several women.

Mrs. Freda Johnson of Hammondsville R. D. 1, testified, "I heard him say he had the equalizer in the car. Charles was talking about Boyd and Campbell both shooting their wives and not getting much time for it."

MRS. JOHNSON said she can't recall word for word what he said, but it was "something about being common knowledge that if you want to kill somebody bring them to Columbiana County." She added that someone said this county didn't believe in capital punishment.

Cross-examined by Donald Shay, defense counsel, Mrs. Johnson said she doesn't know who brought up the subject of Boyd and Campbell. "I had a bad toothache and was sitting there in the corner holding my jaw."

"Was he serious?" Shay asked.

"I didn't take him to be serious," she answered. She added that Copestick told her he was getting a place up on Broadway and was going back together with his wife. "All he wanted to talk about was his wife. I thought he was happy because they were going back together."

Williams' wife, Julia, was also in the house while the group was talking. She testified, "The first I paid any attention was about him having an equalizer out in the car — a gun." She said she also heard him say something about Columbiana County being the place to commit a murder. "He said he was tired of taking any more crap," she related, "and I told him I thought it was the other way around, that it was Becky taking it."

G. William Brokaw, co-counsel for the defendant, asked Mrs. Williams if Copestick didn't do "a lot of joking or kidding with people."

"Well," she paused, "he did a lot of bragging."

"About what?" Brokaw asked.

"Different things—about cars and girl friends," she answered. She said she didn't know Rebecca and had seen her only a couple of times.

—:—

MRS. WILLIAMS was leaving the courtroom when Brokaw called her back to the witness stand. "Do you happen to recall how he was dressed?"

"He had black pants and a black western shirt."

"Did he say anything about them?"

"He said they were new — something about being his Father's Day present from Rebecca."

Mrs. Chipps testified she recalled Charles said he "had something out in the car to liquidate her with."

"Who did he mean by her?" the prosecutor asked. "Becky," Mrs. Chipps replied.

"I told him he was nuts," Mrs. Chipps continued. "Did he make any response to that," asked Bettis. "No, he just laughed." "We asked him where he got the gun and he said at the Army-Navy Store."

Shay's cross - examination brought out that Charles went to the Chipps home frequently to talk to Mrs. Chipps and that on one visit he told her Judge Tobin told him he had to go back with Becky or lose the boy.

Mrs. Chipps said that Charles, on the afternoon of June 18, "was like he always was—acting a fool and laughing." "He said he had a place on Broadway and he and Becky were going back together."

"I certainly can't figure what happened," she volunteered.

On re-direct examination, Bettis asked Mrs. Chipps if Charles mentioned how he got the gun.

She said Charles told her he asked Becky for $20 to get parts for his car and used the money to buy the gun.

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Dog Shall Lead Them

Almost all of the Westerns on TV today are based on the family. The lone gunman like Wyatt Earp has given way to the Cartwrights of "Bonanza," the Prides of "Road West," The Barkleys of "The Big Valley" and orphaned Monroe kids of "The Monroes."

Hal Humphrey

This "One Man's Family" syndrome naturally was encouraged by Madison Ave., where it is axiomatic that the family who views together buys together — cars, mouth wash and deodorant. There seems to be a constant effort now to get enough elements in every show to involve the whole family in a TV household.

EVEN in "The Monroes," where the five kids ostensibly are surviving the West on their own, there is cattle baron Maj. Mapoy always in the background as the father image. And of course the eldest girl, Kathleen, doubles as child and little mother to the others.

To further insure everyone's getting hooked on "The Monroes," ABC brainstormers suggested to producer Al C. Ward that he get a dog into the series. Ward agreed that a dog would be a real plus and also give "The Monroes" "great warmth." Adding a dog also gave Ward a king-size headache.

"Seventeen scripts already were written without a dog, so this mean rewriting roughly half of those scripts. We couldn't get him in until the fifth show, and even then we were taking a big gamble because at first we had no double for Snow," says Ward.

EMERGENCY conferences were held between Ward and ABC to discuss what kind of dog the Monroes should have.

Ward contended it must be a breed not "overexposed" on TV. He thinks, for example, the viewing public has had it with German shepherds, collies and what Ward refers to as the "Old Yeller" mongrel types as personified in the Disney picture of the same name.

"We needed a fresh face from the dog world, and I suddenly realized I had one in my own back yard — a great Pyrenes. They are a striking breed, pure white and with a bear-like head. Our Pyrenees was bought as a pup and grew into a 200-pound specimen we named Oso Bravo. But I would have lost my own family if I had taken him for the Monroes," says Ward.

CARL SPITZ, a trainer well known to Ward, set out in search of a great Pyrenees. The search ranks now with the great talent hunts of all time, including the one for a Scarlett O'Hara.

Spitz discovered there were no more than 100 or so great Pyrenees in the state of California, and it took two weeks before he found a family willing to part with one for $500.

Snow, as the dog was named by Ward, entered a crash training program which included getting acclimated to the Grand Teton country in Wyoming, where "The Monroes'" first 17 episodes were shot. He was introduced on the Oct. 5 show and will be seen again in a week or two, following which time he will be more or less a regular feature of the series.

Ward and the network are convinced that Snow will help "The Monroes'" rating. As Ward puts it, "If it's true about motherhood, old ladies and Boy Scouts, then we should be home free."

ON THE OTHER HAND, should Snow fail to pull up the show's rating, he may have blown a $150-a-day paycheck and be setting all of dogdom back 20 years as far as Madison Ave. is concerned. Once the advertising clan is down on you, forget it, Charlie.

Snow, by the way, now has a double named Gweffer, and the two of them fight like any other two actors. Trainer Spitz takes advantage of this when the script calls for Snow to get mad and snarl at some intruder.

Behind camera Spitz lets Snow see him giving Gweffer a juicy beef bone and Snow comes on like Gang Busters.

Medals Given To Parents In Death Of Son

The parents of a Salineville area soldier who was wounded mortally in Viet Nam a year ago Thursday afternoon were presented two decorations awarded him posthumously by the South Vietnamese government.

The medals were given to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Davis of near West End, Salineville, in recognition of the service of their son, Pfc. Elwood W. (Skip) Davis Jr., 26, who was killed Nov. 17 while fighting with the 1st Cavalry Division.

They are the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross with Palm, both conferred on the soldier by the Republic of Viet Nam.

Maj. Robert Sagona, who is stationed at the Ravenna Arsenal, represented the armed forces in the ceremony, which was held at the Carrollton City Hall.

Word of the award of the decorations was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Davis in late August by military authorities in Washington. They said plans were being arranged for the presentation ceremony.

The soldier was awarded two medals earlier by the American government. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were presented with the Bronze Star Medal in a ceremony at Carrollton last February. The citation said it was awarded for "heroism and valor" while serving with a unit of the 7th Cavalry Regiment, which was making an assault landing and moving into position when hit by an enemy force.

At the time of his death, Pfc. Davis was awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Pfc. Davis had visited in East Liverpool frequently before entering the service. He was a brother of Mrs. Helen Williams of 1049 Monaca St.

New Titles Set October Record

LISBON — The 605 vehicles titled last month in Columbiana County set a record for October, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

He said the new vehicles represented $2,027,682, compared with 582 vehicles worth $1,942,364 in October last year.

He said 102 civil cases were filed last month in Common Pleas Court, compared with 76 for October a year ago.

Stacey paid the county treasurer $6,579 in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department. The state treasurer received $71,646 from the collection of the dealers' tax, $8,889 from the collection of sales and use tax, $1,382 from car title fees and $990 from inspection certificates.

The title department issued 3,881 auto titles, 40 duplicate titles, 843 memorandums, 10 duplicate memorandums, 1,375 notations of liens, 1,132 cancellations of liens and 1,105 acknowledgments.

Statement Answered

Crucible Aide Explains Emergency Hospital Use

Crucible Steel Co. officials have issued a statement concerning the use of the Midland Works plant hospital by area residents in need of emergency treatment.

Joseph Scalise, division superintendent of employe relations, said Midland residents were quick to react to a recent statement made by a Councilman at a Council meeting which criticized Crucible for its procedures in handling of accident cases at the hospital.

Scalise said phone calls from Midland residents and employes expressed regrets regarding the criticism and appreciation for past help and effort given by Crucible for the welfare of the community.

There was concern also as to whether future emergency treatment would be affected.

Scalise said, "Crucible will continue its practice of giving first aid, where indicated, for non-employes as any hospital emergency room would do until the patient's physican can be contacted.

"It never has been the intent of the plant hospital," Scalise said, "to treat non-first aid cases such as colds, flu, or other illnesses or superficial injuries."

The case referred to at the Council meeting involved a burn on the elbow. Except for first-aid treatment, such cases always are referred to the family physician or, if he is not available, to an accredited hospital.

The primary function of the Crucible hospital is to provide the best qualified and experienced medical attention for immediate availability to the employes who might be injured or become ill while on the job. One physician directs the medical services. He is assisted by one physician, part-time, and seven nurses who are employed full time.

"According to Pennsylvania state law, nurses' duties are restricted in that certain treatment can only be performed under supervision of or direction by a doctor," Scalise said.

He added, "Crucible appreciates the interest shown by the community and wishes to thank all who express regret for the unwarranted comment."

Search Pressed For Police Chief Missing In W.Va.

DAVIS, W. Va. (AP) — A search party made up of some 60 volunteers was to spread out today over the rugged and snow-covered mountain terrain northeast of here to find Shinnston Police Chief Dennis McDonald, missing for two days.

Sub-freezing temperatures and snow forced searchers to abandon the hunt in the Canaan Valley of the Eastern Panhandle Thursday night, but reinforcements were expected today.

McDonald turned up missing Wednesday morning while on a turkey hunt with Shinnston Mayor Simons and Harrison County Conservation Officer James Fazalare.

Simons told officers McDonald became separated when a fog set in and that efforts to find him later that morning failed. McDonald was in the wilderness Wednesday night when temperatures dipped into the 20s, accompanied by a snow storm.

Richard Pill, McDonald's son-in-law, said walkie-talkies were helping in the search and that Civil Air Patrol ground and air units were to join in the search today.

Ceremonies Conducted By Local Lodge

District Deputy Grand Master Charles Kidd of District 28 was in charge of inspection during the meeting of Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 Thursday night at the East End home.

Kidd is also a member of the downtown East Liverpool lodge. Noble Grand George Tucker was in charge of the meeting.

Plans were announced for a combined memorial service for deceased members of the Pennova lodge and Rebekah Lodge 782 Nov. 11, beginning with a coverdish supper at 6. Clarence A. Smith of the Pennova lodge will be acting noble grand and Carl Mumaw will be chaplain for the services, which will get under way at 8.

The annual Christmas dinner and party has been set for Dec. 9 at 6 p.m. Committees will be appointed.

Nov. 17 and 24 are the dates for the nomination of new officers for Pennova lodge. The election will be Dec. 1.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

Q. Is multiple sclerosis inheritable? Is there any reason why a man with the disease should not have children?

A. There are more sufferers from multiple sclerosis among members of families of patients with this disease than can be accounted for by chance, and to this extent the disease certainly shows a tendency to "run in families." However, there seems to be no recognizable inheritable pattern, although the disease seems to affect brother and sister more often than parent and child. It would be illogical to express an opinion on the advisability of a man with multiple sclerosis having children without knowing the entire family history. Such advice is best solicited from the attending psysician.

PIERCED EARS

Q. When the ear is pierced will the hole or canal remain open or will the edges eventually grow together and close the canal?

A. Once the canal is established, it will remain open unless there is irritation or infection. Ear piercing is a minor surgical procedure which should not be attempted by well meaning friends or other nonprofessionals.

Medals Given To Parents In Death Of Son

The parents of a Salineville area soldier who was wounded mortally in Viet Nam a year ago Thursday afternoon were presented two decorations awarded him posthumously by the South Vietnamese government.

The medals were given to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Davis of near West End, Salineville, in recognition of the service of their son, Pfc. Elwood W. (Skip) Davis Jr., 26, who was killed Nov. 17 while fighting with the 1st Cavalry Division.

They are the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross with Palm, both conferred on the soldier by the Republic of Viet Nam.

Maj. Robert Sagona, who is stationed at the Ravenna Arsenal, represented the armed forces in the ceremony, which was held at the Carrollton City Hall.

Word of the award of the decorations was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Davis in late August by military authorities in Washington. They said plans were being arranged for the presentation ceremony.

The soldier was awarded two medals earlier by the American government. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were presented with the Bronze Star Medal in a ceremony at Carrollton last February. The citation said it was awarded for "heroism and valor" while serving with a unit of the 7th Cavalry Regiment, which was making an assault landing and moving into position when hit by an enemy force.

At the time of his death, Pfc. Davis was awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Pfc. Davis had visited in East Liverpool frequently before entering the service. He was a brother of Mrs. Helen Williams of 1049 Monaca St.

New Titles Set October Record

LISBON — The 605 vehicles titled last month in Columbiana County set a record for October, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

He said the new vehicles represented $2,027,682, compared with 582 vehicles worth $1,942,364 in October last year.

He said 102 civil cases were filed last month in Common Pleas Court, compared with 76 for October a year ago.

Stacey paid the county treasurer $6,579 in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department. The state treasurer received $71,646 from the collection of the dealers' tax, $8,889 from the collection of sales and use tax, $1,382 from car title fees and $990 from inspection certificates.

The title department issued 3,881 auto titles, 40 duplicate titles, 843 memorandums, 10 duplicate memorandums, 1,375 notations of liens, 1,132 cancellations of liens and 1,105 acknowledgments.

Crucible Aide Explains Emergency Hospital Use

Crucible Steel Co. officials have issued a statement concerning the use of the Midland Works plant hospital by area residents in need of emergency treatment.

Joseph Scalise, division superintendent of employe relations, said Midland residents were quick to react to a recent statement made by a Councilman at a Council meeting which criticized Crucible for its procedures in handling of accident cases at the hospital.

Scalise said phone calls from Midland residents and employes expressed regrets regarding the criticism and appreciation for past help and effort given by Crucible for the welfare of the community.

There was concern also as to whether future emergency treatment would be affected.

Scalise said, "Crucible will continue its practice of giving first aid, where indicated, for non-employes as any hospital emergency room would do until the patient's physican can be contacted.

"It never has been the intent of the plant hospital," Scalise said, "to treat non-first aid cases such as colds, flu, or other illnesses or superficial injuries."

The case referred to at the Council meeting involved a burn on the elbow. Except for first-aid treatment, such cases always are referred to the family physician or, if he is not available, to an accredited hospital.

The primary function of the Crucible hospital is to provide the best qualified and experienced medical attention for immediate availability to the employes who might be injured or become ill while on the job. One physician directs the medical services. He is assisted by one physician, part-time, and seven nurses who are employed full time.

"According to Pennsylvania state law, nurses' duties are restricted in that certain treatment can only be performed under supervision of or direction by a doctor," Scalise said.

He added, "Crucible appreciates the interest shown by the community and wishes to thank all who express regret for the unwarranted comment."

Search Pressed For Police Chief Missing In W.Va.

DAVIS, W. Va. (AP) — A search party made up of some 60 volunteers was to spread out today over the rugged and snow-covered mountain terrain northeast of here to find Shinnston Police Chief Dennis McDonald, missing for two days.

Sub-freezing temperatures and snow forced searchers to abandon the hunt in the Canaan Valley of the Eastern Panhandle Thursday night, but reinforcements were expected today.

McDonald turned up missing Wednesday morning while on a turkey hunt with Shinnston Mayor Simons and Harrison County Conservation Officer James Fazalare.

Simons told officers McDonald became separated when a fog set in and that efforts to find him later that morning failed. McDonald was in the wilderness Wednesday night when temperatures dipped into the 20s, accompanied by a snow storm.

Richard Pill, McDonald's son-in-law, said walkie-talkies were helping in the search and that Civil Air Patrol ground and air units were to join in the search today.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

Q. Is multiple sclerosis inheritable? Is there any reason why a man with the disease should not have children?

A. There are more sufferers from multiple sclerosis among members of families of patients with this disease than can be accounted for by chance, and to this extent the disease certainly shows a tendency to "run in families." However, there seems to be no recognizable inheritable pattern, although the disease seems to affect brother and sister more often than parent and child. It would be illogical to express an opinion on the advisability of a man with multiple sclerosis having children without knowing the entire family history. Such advice is best solicited from the attending psysician.

PIERCED EARS

Q. When the ear is pierced will the hole or canal remain open or will the edges eventually grow together and close the canal?

A. Once the canal is established, it will remain open unless there is irritation or infection. Ear piercing is a minor surgical procedure which should not be attempted by well meaning friends or other nonprofessionals.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF THE EAST LIVERPOOL SCHOOL DISTRICT

November 4, 1966

Dear Friends,

We of the professional staff of the East Liverpool City Schools are happy, that after long months of waiting, we at last are much nearer to realization of modern much improved school quarters for our students. We are confident that the parents and citizens of East Liverpool who recognized this need, were also determined to provide not only better buildings, but the necessary equipment and teaching tools to implement the finest possible program of instruction.

There is one more necessary, and very important element in any school system —dedicated, and competent, professionally orientated teachers, who have in their hearts a genuine concern for the future of all your children.

Many of us have chosen to remain here in East Liverpool to teach, because we feel that we are needed here, and it is a good community in which to live and to teach. Some of our members felt that opportunity was greater elsewhere, and left. It was only through concerted action by the East Liverpool Teachers Association in cooperation with Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Paul Blair, and the Board of Education, that we were able to have present an almost complete faculty at the opening of school this year.

We have confidence that all local organizations, both as a group, and as individual citizens, can find every good and practical reason to support and maintain a good teaching staff for East Liverpool's students of all ages.

There may have been areas of misunderstanding, and some of disagreement. Neither the teachers, nor the students, have merited anything but your earnest, careful examination of the present financial needs of our school system, and your solid support.

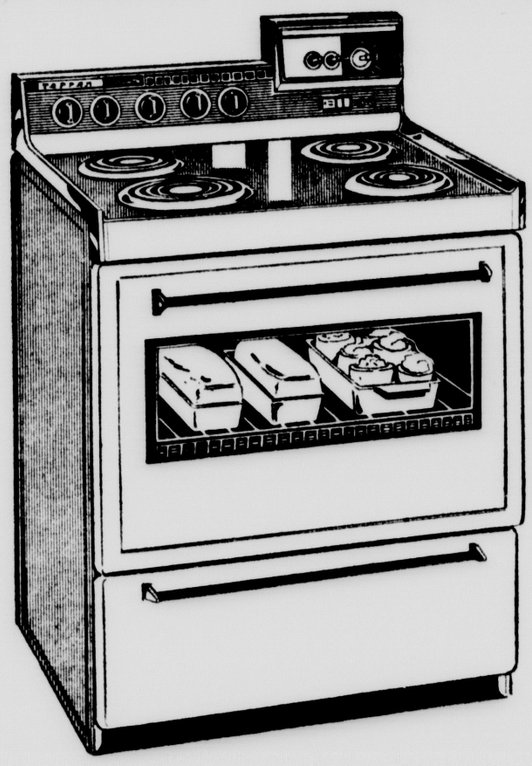

The millage proposed in the operating levy is needed to retain present staff personnel, and to attract needed replacement teachers of the caliber you would like to have for your children. We earnestly hope you will not disappoint either of us. Help us pass the 3.5 mill operating levy on November 8, 1966.

Not Giving Up Hope

Democrats Scrap Plans With LBJ Off Vote Trail

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson taking himself off the campaign trail Democrats in tight races from Massachusetts to California today had to scrap plans, bunting and speakers' platforms.

But they insisted they were not giving up hope.

Just what impact Johnson's absence from campaign halls, rallies and parades will have on the election Tuesday no one can say with certainty.

One unmeasurable factor was whether any sympathy for the chief executive — facing surgery after his mission to the Far East — would be reflected in votes for candidates of his Democratic party.

Another was whether any feeling of anxiety about the President's condition would be reflected in votes for Republicans.

And some of the candidates who have been pictured, as on, or near, the ropes and urgently needing help from the Democratic champ say they will do all right on their own.

Brown, had expected Johnson to campaign for him in California Saturday and Sunday in his uphill re-election battle against Ronald Reagan.

"We are going to win the election whether he comes or not," declared Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan, who is in a tough match with GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield for a U.S. Senate seat from Oregon.

Brown and House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said they had been notified Tuesday that Johnson would not be able to keep campaign dates in their states. McCormack said he learned it from a White House aide who telephoned from Seoul, Korea.

But in general the picture was one of shattered plans in some dozen states after the President's announcement Thursday he would sit out the remainder of the campaign to rest up for surgery in about 15 days.

The White House never made official announcement of Johnson's campaign plans. But the word had spread from Bangkok to Boston that he planned a lightning drive to answer candidates' calls for help after he returned from the Far East.

Speakers platforms were hammered together in Boston, in Portland, Ore., and in Minneapolis. A dam dedication was set in Montana Saturday with three floors of the Northern Hotel in Billings reserved for the President and entourage.

Advance Secret Service men were already on hand in Portland.

Democrats Scrap Plans With LBJ Off Vote Trail

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson taking himself off the campaign trail Democrats in tight races from Massachusetts to California today had to scrap plans, bunting and speakers' platforms.

But they insisted they were not giving up hope.

Just what impact Johnson's absence from campaign halls, rallies and parades will have on the election Tuesday no one can say with certainty.

One unmeasurable factor was whether any sympathy for the chief executive — facing surgery after his mission to the Far East — would be reflected in votes for candidates of his Democratic party.

Another was whether any feeling of anxiety about the President's condition would be reflected in votes for Republicans.

And some of the candidates who have been pictured, as on, or near, the ropes and urgently needing help from the Democratic champ say they will do all right on their own.

Brown, had expected Johnson to campaign for him in California Saturday and Sunday in his uphill re-election battle against Ronald Reagan.

"We are going to win the election whether he comes or not," declared Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan, who is in a tough match with GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield for a U.S. Senate seat from Oregon.

Brown and House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said they had been notified Tuesday that Johnson would not be able to keep campaign dates in their states. McCormack said he learned it from a White House aide who telephoned from Seoul, Korea.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Teen-Ager Booby-Traps Herself

"I am 4 feet 11, 16 years old and have a small frame. I am quite active. I seldom eat more than 1,000 calories a day. . . 1,200 a day is feasting for me. But that makes me heavy and bloated.

Ida Jean Kain

"Chocolate chip ice cream is my downfall. My little brothers and sisters love it and it is always here. Twice or so a month I eat about eight cups at one sitting. Then I have to diet terribly. I've tried to analyze this for some psychological problem, but I can see none. I really believe that it's just that I love the taste of chocolate chip ice cream. What do you think?"

—:—

I THINK that perhaps it's easy for you to gain weight because you are short. For this reason, it is all the more important for you to swing into good food habits. You can lose weight on 1,200 calories a day, provided they are divided into three meals and the essential nutrients are included. Are you overeating on the wrong foods and skimping on the foods which keep you properly nourished? This leads to malnutrition and overweight.

One other thing: If your chocolate chip ice cream sprees coincide with a certain time of month, this can be influenced by pre - menstrual tension, at which times you repeat your habit pattern and go on an ice cream binge.

This is not a psychological problem, but a physical one. The best way to counteract the tension buildup is with physical exercise. Go out for a hike, arrange for dancing classes, or take some form of enjoyable exercise. Just knowing the probable cause of the overeating sprees can give you perspective. Talk this over with your doctor. He may suggest that you cut way down on salt prior to this time.

On the psychology score, know that the ice cream is always there . . . and that you have it if you want it. Reason it through and you will see the spree is no favor to yourself. When you convince yourself that your fun isn't in stuffing on ice cream, and that you really want a neat, sweet figure, the compulsion will wane. You won't feel deprived when others eat it.

I CANNOT overestimate how important it is for you to get with good food habits! This will help you all the rest of your life. Eat breakfast, including an egg or a whole grain cereal, a slice of toast and fruit or juice. Have a balanced lunch with one modest serving of everything, and a glass of skim milk. Skip rich dessert. After school, have a glass of skim milk or a piece of fruit. At dinner, eat one serving of all good food, but no seconds. Skip dessert.

Take some shape-ups to tone the big muscles and you'll have a honey of a figure. It's a magic moment when you decide that you're just the girl who can do it!

Reams Continues Attack On Rhode

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Democratic gubernatorial hopeful, State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., continued his attack on Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday night at a party rally in suburban Parma.

"Ohio has had its fill of anti-people government by Rhodes," Reams said.

The senator from Toledo charged that increases in jobs and per capita income in Ohio has been less than in surrounding states.

He claimed that the Rhodes administration has slashed workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation benefits, hurting thousands of injured and laid - off workers.

U.S. Mediator Enters Dayton Paper Strike

By The Associated Press

A federal mediator was scheduled to meet with both sides in the four-day-old Dayton newspaper strike Friday—but separately, in an attempt to get union and management together.

Meanwhile, no negotiations were on tap in the Toledo newspaper strike, in its 12th day.

A total of more than 460,000 subscribers are affected by the two disputes. Shut down are both Dayton papers, the morning Journal Herald and afternoon Daily News, and both Toledo papers, the morning Times and afternoon Blade.

Printers, guildsmen and stereotypers are on strike in Toledo and pressmen in Dayton. With other unions observing picket lines, upward of 1,500 newspaper employes in the two cities remain idle.

Alliance Woman Killed When Two Trains Hit Car

By The Associated Press

One of Ohio's latest traffic deaths resulted when a car was hit by two trains.

The dead:

Mrs. Ethel Phillips, 56, Alliance.

Mrs. Ruth Ransom, 69, Columbus.

Mrs. Phillips was killed Thursday night when a car driven by her son, Weston, 16, was hit by a freight train and tossed into the path of another east of Alliance. The victim's son, thrown clear of the wreckage, was in fair condition in an Alliance hospital.

Mrs. Ransom, riding in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Heald, 34, Columbus, was killed Thursday when the auto hit a fence. The door on the passenger side flew open and the victim partially fell out and was dragged along the pavement.

Killed In Collision

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Arnulfo J. Tovar, 36, of Rt. 3, Swanton, Ohio and recently of San Antonio, Tex., was killed Thursday in a two-car collision near here.

Reams Continues Attack On Rhode

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Democratic gubernatorial hopeful, State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., continued his attack on Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday night at a party rally in suburban Parma.

"Ohio has had its fill of anti-people government by Rhodes," Reams said.

The senator from Toledo charged that increases in jobs and per capita income in Ohio has been less than in surrounding states.

He claimed that the Rhodes administration has slashed workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation benefits, hurting thousands of injured and laid - off workers.

U.S. Mediator Enters Dayton Paper Strike

By The Associated Press

A federal mediator was scheduled to meet with both sides in the four-day-old Dayton newspaper strike Friday—but separately, in an attempt to get union and management together.

Meanwhile, no negotiations were on tap in the Toledo newspaper strike, in its 12th day.

A total of more than 460,000 subscribers are affected by the two disputes. Shut down are both Dayton papers, the morning Journal Herald and afternoon Daily News, and both Toledo papers, the morning Times and afternoon Blade.

Printers, guildsmen and stereotypers are on strike in Toledo and pressmen in Dayton. With other unions observing picket lines, upward of 1,500 newspaper employes in the two cities remain idle.

Alliance Woman Killed When Two Trains Hit Car

By The Associated Press

One of Ohio's latest traffic deaths resulted when a car was hit by two trains.

The dead:

Mrs. Ethel Phillips, 56, Alliance.

Mrs. Ruth Ransom, 69, Columbus.

Mrs. Phillips was killed Thursday night when a car driven by her son, Weston, 16, was hit by a freight train and tossed into the path of another east of Alliance. The victim's son, thrown clear of the wreckage, was in fair condition in an Alliance hospital.

Mrs. Ransom, riding in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Heald, 34, Columbus, was killed Thursday when the auto hit a fence. The door on the passenger side flew open and the victim partially fell out and was dragged along the pavement.

Killed In Collision

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Arnulfo J. Tovar, 36, of Rt. 3, Swanton, Ohio and recently of San Antonio, Tex., was killed Thursday in a two-car collision near here.

Meeting Set Tuesday By District Ceramists

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society will meet Tuesday night at 6:30 at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

The program will be presented by Paul R. LiMatta and M. M. Levy of the Columbia Gas Co. of Ohio, Inc. They will give an illustrated lecture on "Gas Total Energy," explaining new fuel developments for the ceramic, glass and basic steel industries.

F. J. Sauereisen of the Sauereisen Cement Co. in Pittsburgh is in charge of reservations.

Free Methodist Church Construction Started

Construction has been started on the new First Free Methodist Church here on St. Clair Ave. Ext., near the Berkshire Rd.

The red brick colonial structure, which will be 40 by 90 feet, with a full basement, is expected to be completed by next March.

The building will include a sanctuary, 17 classrooms, a pastor's study, offices, mothers' room, balcony and an overflow room. Ample parking space will be provided.

Church bonds, which are being sold to finance the construction, were approved by the Ohio Securities Division and are being issued and handled through the Brotherhood Investment Co. of Columbus. The First National Bank of East Liverpool is serving as the financial agent for the payment of the principal and interest on the bonds, church officials said.

The bonds are being sold by members of the congregation. They may be obtained by contacting the Rev. A. R. Grafton.

Saffron should be used sparingly not only for economical reasons, but because if it is used too liberally it may impart a medicinal flavor.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the woman who wrote about her sneaky husband prompts this, my first communication to a newspaper.

Several weeks ago my husband asked me if I would mind if a business associate from another city stayed in our home for a week "to save expenses."

I cannot describe my astonishment when I discovered that the "business associate" was a woman, and the only business they had together was monkey business.

For five days she sat around our house in her filmy negligee, filing her fingernails, smoking cigarettes and reading trashy magazines. My husband took her to a "sales meeting" every night. They never got home before 3 a.m.

Finally I asked her what connection she had with my husband's firm and she told me she had no connection, but that she used their products once in awhile. Then I asked what she was doing in town and she said she always had wanted to visit Cincinnati.

What do you think of this for gall?—ANONYMOUS, PLEASE.

Dear An: I think her gall is exceeded only by your stupidity. If it took you five days to ask a guest in your home what she was doing in town, you are pretty slow on the uptake, Lady.

Loyalty Code

Dear Ann: I'm a 17-year-old girl who wants to know how much loyalty a person owes a friend?

My closest girl friend (I will fake the name and call her Inez) asked me to spend Friday and Saturday night with her because her parents were going to the Cape for the weekend. My parents always have liked Inez and agreed that it would be okay.

Friday evening we double-dated. I went with a fellow I'be been seeing a lot, but not steady, and Inez dated a fellow she had just met three weeks ago. After the date (we went to a movie and then to eat) Inez asked both fellows to come in and listen to records.

I didn't like the idea and told her that I was going to sleep and that my date had to say good night at the door.

Well, to make a long story short, Inez' boy friend stayed all night. When I discovered him there the next morning I told Inez I wasn't spending any more nights with her. We were not on good terms when I left.

My mother asked why I looked so unhappy when I got home and I told her Inez and I had had an argument. Mom accused me of being "hard to get along with" and suggested that I improve my disposition.

If I had told Mom the truth Inez would have been in plenty of trouble. As it is, I'm the one who looks bad. How much loyalty do I owe her? — VICTIMIZED.

Dear Vic: This is not a matter of loyalty, it's a matter of integrity. A person of good character does not rat fink, and you proved that you are a person of character. So—an orchid to you, Doll, and a bouquet of skunk cabbage to Inez.

Confidentially

TO WHERE DID I FAIL: You made the all-too-common mistake of grabbing bargain counter pleasure when you should have waited for a meaningful relationship to develop. Most of man's unhappiness results from having made the wrong choice. And this was your undoing.

TO A FRIEND WHO GOT NO THANKS: I don't call it friendship when you lend money at 25 per cent interest. Obviously you would rather eat well than sleep well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

It was announced that the hospitality hostesses for the West Point School in January will be Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. Havice and Mrs. Ketchum.

35 Housewives Picket Stores In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Five suburban supermarkets were picketed by about 35 housewives Thursday in a food price protest.

The women originally planned a three-day boycott of certain chains, starting Thursday, but changed their minds and decided to picket also.

They said the target of the movement was chains that give trading stamps and prizes, contending that such promotions push up prices. They singled out Kroger's, Thorofare, A&P, Acme and Loblaw's.

A spokesman for the group, Mrs. Lois LeGros of Shaler Twp., said poor planning and cold weather reduced participation, but said picketing was successful at one store in Shaler Twp. There, she said, some shoppers drove into the parking lot and drove out again without going into the store.

Housewives in other cities across the nation have staged similar demonstrations recently over rising food prices.

Weirton Coach Lauds Potters . . .

After watching his team bow 21-0 to East Liverpool and after viewing movies of the game Weirton coach Carl Fodor paid the Potters a fine compliment.

Fodor declared "East Livepool is the best team Weirton has played all season as far as line play is concerned. It has two of the finest defensive tackles in the area and an excellent quarterback."

Fodor added, "The Potters hit harder than Big Red did, at least that's what our players thought. East Liverpool would be better than Big Red all around, but they don't have a back who can match Steubenville's Mike Palmer."

Salem Scouted? . . .

WHILE East Liverpool is heavily favored to win tonight's game at Salem, the Potter coaching staff must hold some respect for the Quakers.

A story in Thursday's Salem News told about two unidentified persons in the vicinity of the stadium there, who Salem officials believe were East Liverpool scouts.

Salem officials were quite certain that the scouts were from East Liverpool, since the only other opponent remaining on the schedule is a Cincinnati team and the license plate indicated an East Liverpool area license.

51 Report For Basketball . . .

THE POTTERS new basketball coach Clinton McConnell reported 51 boys reporting when the call was issued Tuesday, the first day practice can be conducted in Ohio.

Some cuts have been made but the nucleus of the basketball players are still playing football. Eighteen candidates, who either played varsity, reserve or ninth grade basketball last year are on the football squad, McConnell said. All the Potters are doing now is conditioning.

The returning lettermen include Vern Smith, the team's leading scorer from last year, Denny Smith, Darryl Herring, Mitchel Jones and Earl Diddle. Pete Carter, Mike McVay and Bruce Christian also saw considerable game time last season.

Like Father, Like Son . . .

RAVENNA High, coached by Nunzio Polichene, former East Liverpool assistant, remains undefeated while showing one tie. It meets another unbeaten team in Kent - Roosevelt Saturday night at Kent.

Roosevelt, which is tied with East Liverpool for the 14th spot in the state poll, has an 8-0 record. The winner of the game also will walk off with the Metro League championship.

The interesting fact about the Roosevelt team is that several sons of Kent State University coaches are members of the team.

Former Potter gridder Francis Smouse, an assistant at Kent State has a son Jeff on the team. Jeff is no little boy, weighing in at 210. Only a sophomore, he is considered the standout of the Roosevelt defensive unit. He plays at tackle.

Carter Strang, son of Kent State head coach Leo Strang, is a substitute halfback on the team. The first-string fullback is Mike Adamle, son of the former Brown's star of the early 50's Tony Adamle. Tony is the team physician for both Kent State and Roosevelt High.

Snow Clouds Crystal Ball . . .

WHILE SNOW flurries may tend to cloud the crystal ball, improvement is expected over a very mediocre 6 right and 5 wrong record last weekend.

We like the Potters by a big margin tonight, since Salem doesn't seem to have the speed to contain the Potters.

The Oak Glen-Weirton game seems close, but Coach Bob Starkey's team still has injuries. We are leaning to Weirton in this one.

If Wellsville can come up with the same performance against Springfield as was shown in the Jefferson Union game, the Tigers should win tonight. Wellsville by a close margin.

In other games, Southern Local should be sky high to upset United; Columbiana rates the edge over Lisbon; Louisville should win its 37th straight over East Palestine, and Leetonia should nip Sebring.

Saturday, we feel Beaver Local can score a victory over Toronto and Verona receives the nod over Western Beaver.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WEST VIRGINIA'S freshman football team finished the season with a 2-2 record thanks to the left foot of a right-footed placekicker Oscar Patrick from Coalwood.

Patrick's perfect extra point kick gave the Little Mountaineers a 7-6 win over the Penn State freshmen and he booted with his left foot. The lanky end had injured his kicking leg against Pitt two weeks earlier, but told Coach Howard Tippett he thought he could kick it left-footed. He was right.

★ ★ ★

AT MERCERSBURG Academy Prep School in Pennsylvania, Geoffrey Lowe, son of Council president and Mrs. Ernest A. Lowe, set a school record in cross country recently.

He was the No. 1 runner for the team until a case of shin splints, an ailment common to distance runners, put him on the sidelines.

Lowe set a new school record of 10:53.1 for the 2.1 mile course at Mercersburg in a meet Oct. 16 against the Jeanette Harriers.

Last year as a sophomore, he ran the mile once in 4:33 and twice in 4:32.8. The Columbiana County high school record is 4:31.6.

★ ★ ★

Potters, Salem Clash For 51st Time

McNea is quick to point out that tonight's opponent has been up to their neck in all but one game this season losing five tough ones out of the six.

LOOKING to their strong points, McNea said "Salem has a good short passing game and a strong fullback."

The two County teams will be meeting for the 51st time tonight with kickoff set at 8 p. m. at Reilly Stadium.

East Liverpool has won the last four meetings between the two schools with Salem last scoring a victory in 1961.

THE POTTERS striving for more state recognition after a 14th place listing last week carry a 7-1 record and a six game winning streak to Salem tonight.

McNea reported the Potters in good physical condition but pointed out that quarterback Mike McVay hasn't practiced much this week because of an infected leg but is expected to be ready for tonight's game. Darryl Herring also has been slowed somewhat this week with a bruised instep.

THE POTTER coach said McVay would probably run from both fullback and quarterback again with Earl Diddle coming in at quarterback.

The outstanding players from last week's 21-0 victory over Weirton were announced with McVay and Herring being named the leading offensive backs while Carl Natalina was picked the top defensive back.

TACKLE Stanley Ice, who gave an outstanding performance, was named the defensive lineman of the week with Emmanuel Volmo and Carl Natalina sharing the offensive lineman honors.

Salem opened the 1966 season with a victory over Cleveland Lincoln but suddenly went into a tailspin losing five straight games but all by close margin.

BEFORE MICHIGAN STATE can go after its eighth straight victory of the season, students had to shovel snow onto trucks from the gridiron. Over a foot of snow was removed from the playing field where the Spartans meet Iowa Saturday. (UPI Telephoto)

Before Spartans Can Go After 8th

Michigan State Students Remove Snow From Field

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that Michigan State has used 500 shovels to dig Spartan Stadium out of the snow, Pitt and Iowa might like to use them to dig out of the mess they're headed for.

Hapless Pitt is headed for Notre Dame, the nation's top-ranked college football team, Saturday while almost-as-hapless Iowa plows into the snow-bound Spartans, the No. 2 team.

Before the unbeaten Spartans could go after their eighth victory, though, about a foot of snow had to be cleared from the field.

School officials gathered some 500 shovels, then called for volunteers from the student body to use them and help clear the snow away. The students started shoveling Thursday afternoon and worked through the night to get the field ready for the game.

Officials estimated that the snow removal job could cost $35,000.

A loss for either the Irish or the Spartans would be more expensive — from a prestige point of view — but their opponents aren't expected to inflict such damage.

No matter what Jim Lynch says, Lynch is a rugged Notre Dame linebacker and he was saying Thursday how the Irish weren't taking the Panthers lightly even though the Irish won last year's contest 69-13.

In winning one game and losing six, the Panthers have been outscored on the average of 29-10.

At the same time the Irish, 6-0, have scored less than 30 points in only one game while posting three shutouts and limiting their opponents to a total of 28 points.

Iowa is in about the same amount of trouble. The Hawkeyes, 2-5, have been blanked three times while the Spartans have outscored their opponents 27-9.

Six other teams also will be out to continue their unbeaten streaks.

UCLA, ranked No. 3, visits Washington, fourth-ranked Alabama takes on Louisiana State at Birmingham, No. 5 Georgia Tech hosts Virginia, sixth-ranked Nebraska is at Kansas, Florida, No. 7, battles Georgia at Jacksonville and unranked Harvard is at Princeton.

The Florida-Georgia battle could be the most interesting. Those two teams, along with Alabama, are tied for first place in the Southeastern Conference with 4-0 records.

Other games include Syracuse at Penn State, George Washington at Army, Duke at Navy, Illinois at Michigan, Purdue at Wisconsin, Indiana at Ohio State, Miami, Fla., at Tulane, Vanderbilt at Kentucky, Maryland at North Carolina State, Minnesota at Northwestern and North Carolina at Clemson.

Also on the schedule are Texas at Baylor, Tulsa at Houston, Colorado at Missouri, Kansas State at Oklahoma, Texas A&M at Southern Methodist, Wyoming at Wichita State, Air Force at Stanford, Rice and Arkansas at Little Rock, California at Southern California and Chattanooga at Tennessee.

$6-Million Suit Is Filed By Hawkins Against NBA

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Charging a conspiracy by the National Basketball Association, former New York City high school star Connie Hawkins has filed a $6-million suit against the NBA and its commissioner, Walter Kennedy.

Hawkins, through his attorney, David Litman, claims the NBA organized a boycott to keep him from playing professional basketball. He dropped out of the University of Iowa after a half year in 1961 and played with the Pittsburgh Rens in the defunct American Basketball League and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Litman claims the NBA blackballed Hawkins.

The papers were served Thursday in Pittsburgh, where Kennedy was attending a league game between the Philadelphia 76ers and St. Louis Hawks. The suit was filed in U.S. District Court here.

Pittsburgh, Cleveland Figure In NBA Plans

By IRA MILLER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The National Basketball Association has charted a course of ambitious expansion, leading to an eventual 16-team league by 1974.

The plan was unveiled in Pittsburgh Thursday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy, who indicated that Pittsburgh and Cleveland are two of the leading contenders for the next two franchises.

He said the 10-team NBA wants to add two cities to its roster in 1968-69 and four more soon after but by any means no later than 1974.

Six NBA games are being played in Pittsburgh this season as a test of fan sentiment and Kennedy was here to attend the first of them between the Philadelphia 76ers and the St. Louis hawks.

A crowd of 6,924 turned out, not quite the SRO plus 3,000-turnaway that greeted a game between the same two clubs here last Feb. 15, but still not bad for early in the season.

Kennedy said that he and Ben Kerner, owner of the Hawks and chairman of the league's expansion committee, planned to visit Cleveland next week and would report its findings at the league's meeting Nov. 21 in New York.

He said that four other cities were high in the running — Seattle, San Diego, Phoenix and Atlanta — but did not say when league officials would visit them, nor did he set a definite date for awarding the franchises. But Kennedy did say he expected the next two cities to be named sometime around next summer.

Stanton-JU Game, Buckeye Conference Race Featured

With two weeks remaining, the Buckeye Border Conference is in for one of its tightest finishes. And the team that doesn't have any Conference games left — Jefferson Union — could sit back and win the title.

Jefferson Union has a 3-1-1 record with no league games remaining but Wellsville, Beaver Local and Toronto are deadlocked with 2-1 records and the way the schedule reads could knock one another out of the championship.

WELLSVILLE plays a league game at Springfield Local tonight while Beaver Local and Toronto clash Saturday night at the Beaver's gridiron. Next week Beaver Local visits Wellsville in what could be the show down battle.

—:—

STANTON will close its season next week against Smithfield, a team that only has been beaten once while winning six and tieing one.

Coach Glenn Trout, in his first season at Stanton has brought the Raiders through seven straight victories. JU will put a 5-2-1 record on the line tonight.

In other action tonight, Oak Glen plays its final game of the season at Weirton. The Bears take a 2-7 mark into the game against Weirton who stands 5-3.

Southern Local will be out to avenge some previous losses to United when the two rivals clash tonight at Southern.

South Side Drops Final Game, 38-0

MONACA — South Side closed its season on a 38-0 loss to Center High School here Thursday night.

Center scored in every period but the second opening with two touchdowns in the first quarter. An 11-yard run by Ed Zupsic and a one yard plunge by Mike McMullen gave Center a 13-0 lead in the first period.

After a scoreless second period, Center bounced back for two more touchdowns in the third frame on an eight - yard burst by Chris Antoline and a 56 yard run by McMullen.

South Side closed with a 2-5-1 record while Center with the exception of two forfeits because of an ineligible player earlier in the season would have an 8-0 record. As it was Center finished 6-2.

Fillies, Mares Featured On Saturday's Race Card

Fillies and mares will be featured in Saturday's thoroughbred racing with 2-year-olds contending for the richest purse in the $100,000 guaranteed Selima at Laurel, Md.

Older members of the distaff divisions meet in the other two top races—the $50,000-added Ladies Handicap at Aqueduct and the $25,000-added Princeton Handicap at Garden State Park.

The 1 1-16-mile Selima figures to attract a field of 12, making it worth approximately $120,000. The probable field is headed by Patrice Jacobs' Regal Gleam, Mrs. Edith Bancroft's Court Circuit, the C. V. Whitney pair of Silver True and Swiss Cheese and Claiborne Farm's Thong, full sister of Moccasin, last year's 2-year filly champ.

Beaver Local Frosh Obtain Perfect Mark

Bruce Diddle scored three touchdowns in a 36-6 victory over Southern Local giving the Beaver Local freshmen a perfect undefeated season with an 8-0 record.

In the game played at Southern, Diddle made the most of the season's finale as he ran for touchdowns of 36 and 20 yards then raced 60 yards with an intercepted pass.

Clarence Ammon scored Beaver Local's first touchdown on a two yard run while Bill Lucas added another on a 20 - yard sprint. Rick Merritt cashed in for two conversions and Scott Dubberly added one.

This same group of players, over a three year period at Beaver Local, has won 23 games while losing only one since they have played together beginning in the seventh grade.

Weirton Coach Lauds Potters . . .

Fodor declared "East Livepool is the best team Weirton has played all season as far as line play is concerned. It has two of the finest defensive tackles in the area and an excellent quarterback."

Fodor added, "The Potters hit harder than Big Red did, at least that's what our players thought. East Liverpool would be better than Big Red all around, but they don't have a back who can match Steubenville's Mike Palmer."

Salem Scouted? . . .

WHILE East Liverpool is heavily favored to win tonight's game at Salem, the Potter coaching staff must hold some respect for the Quakers.

A story in Thursday's Salem News told about two unidentified persons in the vicinity of the stadium there, who Salem officials believe were East Liverpool scouts.

Salem officials were quite certain that the scouts were from East Liverpool, since the only other opponent remaining on the schedule is a Cincinnati team and the license plate indicated an East Liverpool area license.

51 Report For Basketball . . .

THE POTTERS new basketball coach Clinton McConnell reported 51 boys reporting when the call was issued Tuesday, the first day practice can be conducted in Ohio.

Some cuts have been made but the nucleus of the basketball players are still playing football. Eighteen candidates, who either played varsity, reserve or ninth grade basketball last year are on the football squad, McConnell said. All the Potters are doing now is conditioning.

The returning lettermen include Vern Smith, the team's leading scorer from last year, Denny Smith, Darryl Herring, Mitchel Jones and Earl Diddle. Pete Carter, Mike McVay and Bruce Christian also saw considerable game time last season.

Like Father, Like Son . . .

RAVENNA High, coached by Nunzio Polichene, former East Liverpool assistant, remains undefeated while showing one tie. It meets another unbeaten team in Kent - Roosevelt Saturday night at Kent.

Roosevelt, which is tied with East Liverpool for the 14th spot in the state poll, has an 8-0 record. The winner of the game also will walk off with the Metro League championship.

Former Potter gridder Francis Smouse, an assistant at Kent State has a son Jeff on the team. Jeff is no little boy, weighing in at 210. Only a sophomore, he is considered the standout of the Roosevelt defensive unit. He plays at tackle.

Carter Strang, son of Kent State head coach Leo Strang, is a substitute halfback on the team. The first-string fullback is Mike Adamle, son of the former Brown's star of the early 50's Tony Adamle. Tony is the team physician for both Kent State and Roosevelt High.

Snow Clouds Crystal Ball . . .

WHILE SNOW flurries may tend to cloud the crystal ball, improvement is expected over a very mediocre 6 right and 5 wrong record last weekend.

We like the Potters by a big margin tonight, since Salem doesn't seem to have the speed to contain the Potters.

If Wellsville can come up with the same performance against Springfield as was shown in the Jefferson Union game, the Tigers should win tonight. Wellsville by a close margin.

In other games, Southern Local should be sky high to upset United; Columbiana rates the edge over Lisbon; Louisville should win its 37th straight over East Palestine, and Leetonia should nip Sebring.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

AT MERCERSBURG Academy Prep School in Pennsylvania, Geoffrey Lowe, son of Council president and Mrs. Ernest A. Lowe, set a school record in cross country recently.

He was the No. 1 runner for the team until a case of shin splints, an ailment common to distance runners, put him on the sidelines.

Lowe set a new school record of 10:53.1 for the 2.1 mile course at Mercersburg in a meet Oct. 16 against the Jeanette Harriers.

Last year as a sophomore, he ran the mile once in 4:33 and twice in 4:32.8. The Columbiana County high school record is 4:31.6.

Potters, Salem Clash For 51st Time

McNea is quick to point out that tonight's opponent has been up to their neck in all but one game this season losing five tough ones out of the six.

LOOKING to their strong points, McNea said "Salem has a good short passing game and a strong fullback."

The two County teams will be meeting for the 51st time tonight with kickoff set at 8 p. m. at Reilly Stadium.

East Liverpool has won the last four meetings between the two schools with Salem last scoring a victory in 1961.

THE POTTERS striving for more state recognition after a 14th place listing last week carry a 7-1 record and a six game winning streak to Salem tonight.

McNea reported the Potters in good physical condition but pointed out that quarterback Mike McVay hasn't practiced much this week because of an infected leg but is expected to be ready for tonight's game. Darryl Herring also has been slowed somewhat this week with a bruised instep.

THE POTTER coach said McVay would probably run from both fullback and quarterback again with Earl Diddle coming in at quarterback.

The outstanding players from last week's 21-0 victory over Weirton were announced with McVay and Herring being named the leading offensive backs while Carl Natalina was picked the top defensive back.

TACKLE Stanley Ice, who gave an outstanding performance, was named the defensive lineman of the week with Emmanuel Volino and Carl Natalina sharing the offensive lineman honors.

Salem opened the 1966 season with a victory over Cleveland Lincoln but suddenly went into a tailspin losing five straight games but all by close margin.

Chiefs, Chargers Battle For First Position In AFL

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

There will be a new lock on Sid Gillman's garage door, but the San Diego Charger coach is still not very secure about having to leave town.

After a successful week at home, which included a 24-17 victory over Denver, the Chargers must hit the road — where they have not fared especially well of late — to play Kansas City in a game for the lead of the AFL's Western Division.

In their last road trip, the Chargers dropped games to New York and Boston and tied Buffalo. Then when they returned home, Gillman was greeted by an open garage and the loss of all his tools.

The Chiefs lead the division at the moment, but the Chargers are just a half-game behind and a victory would give them the lead. The game matches the two top passers in the league, John Hadl of the Chargers and Len Dawson of the Chiefs.

In the NFL, Dallas travels to Philadelphia, where the Eagles will try to avenge the 56-7 defeat the Cowboys administered in Dallas a few weeks back. Dallas quarterback Don Meredith, who leads the league with 19 touchdown passes, accounted for five of them against the Eagles.

The Western Division leader, Green Bay, hosts Minnesota, whose quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, is about the hottest player in the league at the moment. He has hit on almost 75 per cent of his passes in the last three games for 836 yards and seven touchdowns.

Back in the AFL, Boston, leading the Eastern Division, faces Denver. Boston's Jim Nance had his best game last week gaining 208 yards on a record 38 carries.

Buffalo, a half-game back in the Eastern Division, is at Miami, which has won two straight after losing its first five. Miami's Cookie Gilchrist faces his former teammates for the first time.

Houston, 3-5, is at Oakland, 4-4, where the Oilers' George Blanda will test his passes against the best pass defense in the league. Houston beat the Raiders 31-0 in their first meeting of the season.

The NFL Eastern Division-leading St. Louis Cardinals are in New York where the Giants will get another chance at the victory that just eluded them the last time the clubs played. A late pass from Charley Johnson to Billy Gambrell gave the Cards the victory then.

Cleveland, riding a four-game winning streak, is at Pittsburgh for a rematch with the club the Browns beat 41-10 early in October. The Steelers have lost five in a row.

Baltimore, in second place in the West, plays Washington at home. The Colts are working on a victory streak of three games and the Redskins have won five of their last six.

Detroit, in the cellar in the West with six losses in seven games, is at Chicago where it will face one of the two teams it has beaten this year. But Rudy Bukich, Gale Sayers and Co. will be trying to show that Detroit's 14-3 victory in the opener was all a mistake.

Los Angeles, 4-4, is at San Francisco, 3-3-1, seeking to repeat its 34-3 victory over the 49ers in September. San Francisco has won three of its last four and the Rams, after winning four of their first five, have dropped three straight.

76ers Notch 17th Straight At Pittsburgh

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Van Arsdale held Rick Barry to two points — if you don't count his concession — and in so doing enabled the New York Knickerbockers to beat the San Francisco Warriors.

"You concede him 30 points and try to keep him from getting 50 or 60," Van Arsdale said Thursday night after spending most of a National Basketball Association game guarding Barry.

Barry, the NBA's Rookie of the Year last season and the current scoring leader, scored 32 points but was limited by Van Arsdale to just one in the third period when the Knicks outscored the Warriors 36-19 en route to a 123-108 victory.

The 6-foot-5 Van Arsdale, who draws the assignment of guarding the opposition's top-scoring forward, also finds time to play offense. He scored 25 points and had four assists.

In other NBA action, Boston beat Chicago 137-108 before the Knicks-Warriors game at Madison Square Garden, and Philadelphia topped St. Louis 120-108 in Pittsburgh.

Wilt Chamberlain scored only 14 points but grabbed 24 rebounds and blocked several shots as Philadelphia won its 17th straight regular season game and tied an NBA record. The first 11 victories in the string came at the end of last season.

Chet Walker made up for Chamberlain's lack of scoring by getting 36. Zelmo Beatty netted 32 for St. Louis.

Led by Larry Siegfried, Boston outscored Chicago 18-8 in the late stages of the first quarter for a 35-23 lead and the start of a rout.

Cowboys, Browns Should Roll

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Tarkenton and his Minnesota scramblers will take a shot at the Green Bay Packers Sunday and the Vikings' quarterback, who seems to make up plays as he goes along, probably will give Vinnie Lombardi a few gray hairs.

The Vikings' unorthodox style usually troubles the Packers, who scorn the hipper dipper for the old bread and butter style. However, the Packers hold a 9-1 edge over Minnesota in their club series.

St. Louis, Dallas and Cleveland appear to have clear sailing ahead in the NFL and that San Diego-Kansas City game should help clear up the confusion in the AFL's West.

The picks for this Sunday's pro games:

NFL

Cleveland 31, Pittsburgh 14- Browns have won four straight and Bill Austin's Steelers have dropped five in a row, including 41-10 drubbing by Cleveland Oct. 8.

Dallas 35, Philadelphia 13- Wolves snapping at Eagles despite 4-4 record. Cowboys lead league in scoring and are second in defense with Mel Renfro back at safety.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 17- This will be rugged. The 49ers put Bill Munson out for the season in this game last year. Rams won first meeting 34-3 on four interceptions and fumble but have lost three straight.

Green Bay 27, Minnesota 17- Tarkenton will scramble, but the Packers will pin him down. With a bye next week, Green Bay can go all out and that means trouble.

Baltimore 27, Washington 20- Colts never take Skins lightly, not with that neighborhood feud. Baltimore has won last six since 1959 and still hopes to catch Green Bay in that big Dec. 10 game.

Chicago 14, Detroit 7- Afraid of this one. Lions are desperate with fans singing "Good Bye Harry" and players in bitter mood. Bears had tough game Monday night in St. Louis and could be used up physically.

St. Louis 24, New York 13- For some strange reason Giants always give Cards fits. They even did it this year before losing Oct. 9 game 24-19. Unless Cards are looking ahead too far they should have no trouble with battered Giants, even after their one-week holiday.

Atlanta has the bye.

AFL

Boston 20, Denver 10- Denver's defense is stopping nobody. Jim Nance should romp again. Pats took Eastern lead last week and they're not going to give it up.

Buffalo 30, Miami 7- Bills rolled it up in first game against Dolphins, 58-24, and have too much class to stumble here.

Kansas City 28, San Diego 17- Chiefs either win big or fall on their faces. Chargers, in and outers this year, had to scramble to get past Denver.

Oakland 21, Houston 17- Why? We saw Houston on TV last week. Raiders on the move, despite 24-21 loss in Boston, and eager to make up for 31-0 beating by Houston in early season.

New York has the bye.

Arkansas Gridder Is Listed Critical, Still Unconscious

HOUSTON (AP) — Claude Smithey, University of Arkansas football player who underwent emergency brain surgery last Sunday, remained unconscious and in critical condition today but his wife said she believed he was improving.

"I'm encouraged," said Mrs. Charlene Smithey. "He's starting to move his arms and eyebrows. I think he is going to pull out of it."

"I was apprehensive but I let him return to football," Mrs. Smithey said. "He wanted to play. Football is in his blood. The doctors gave their approval."

Against Texas A&M, he participated in no more than 10 plays. Arkansas coaches said game films show no blow on the head that could have caused the iniury.

Bret Hanover Scheduled To End Career

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The brilliant harness racing career of Bret Hanover is scheduled to come to a close Saturday when he competes in the $50,000 American Pacing Classic at Hollywood Park.

The 4-year-old bay, who has beeen sold by Robert Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, to Fred Van Lennep for a reported $2 million and is to go into stud at Lexington, Ky., boasts the most impressive record in the sport.

He has won 62 of his 67 starts and never finished worse than second.

Adios Vic and Calgary Bay are the only horses who have beaten Bret, and both will be back in action in the classic.

Kicking Mark Of Gogolak Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been only one year since Charley Gogolak ended his college football career and became a pro, but already his collegiate kicking record is being threatened.

The Norwegian-born Stenerud has connected on 43 of 46 extra point attempts and 9 of 19 field goal tries for 70 points, putting him 13th in scoring in the college division. He has two games remaining.

34 Teams Enter Ohio High School X-Country Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A total of 34 teams are entered in Saturday's 38th annual Ohio High School Cross Country Meet, while Chuck Starkey of Columbus West is rated the individual favorite.

Cleveland St. Joseph is defending the Class AA laurels in the two-mile romp over Ohio State University golf course acreage. Starkey was 1964 state individual titlist as a sophomore runnerup last year and had the best regional clocking this fall, 9:41.7.

Rangers Rout Boston, 7-1

So on Thursday night, when the Rangers won a rare laugher, 7-1 over Boston, it seemed only fitting that Harry Howell should push in a couple of goals of his own.

The veteran Ranger defenseman scored only four goals all last year and just two the season before that. Clearly, he is expected to do other things.

In the only other NHL game, Detroit tied Toronto 2-2 on a late goal by Murray Hall. Ron Ellis and Eddie Shack scored in the second period for the Maple Leafs after Detroit had gone ahead 1-0 on a goal by Floyd Smith.

Seventy - eight rookies began the season with American Football League teams.

Chiefs, Chargers Battle For First Position In AFL

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

There will be a new lock on Sid Gillman's garage door, but the San Diego Charger coach is still not very secure about having to leave town.

After a successful week at home, which included a 24-17 victory over Denver, the Chargers must hit the road — where they have not fared especially well of late — to play Kansas City in a game for the lead of the AFL's Western Division.

In their last road trip, the Chargers dropped games to New York and Boston and tied Buffalo. Then when they returned home, Gillman was greeted by an open garage and the loss of all his tools.

"Our offensive game plans were right next to the tools," Sid said, "and they weren't even touched."

The Chiefs lead the division at the moment, but the Chargers are just a half-game behind and a victory would give them the lead. The game matches the two top passers in the league, John Hadl of the Chargers and Len Dawson of the Chiefs.

In the NFL, Dallas travels to Philadelphia, where the Eagles will try to avenge the 56-7 defeat the Cowboys administered in Dallas a few weeks back. Dallas quarterback Don Meredith, who leads the league with 19 touchdown passes, accounted for five of them against the Eagles.

The Western Division leader, Green Bay, hosts Minnesota, whose quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, is about the hottest player in the league at the moment. He has hit on almost 75 per cent of his passes in the last three games for 836 yards and seven touchdowns.

Back in the AFL, Boston, leading the Eastern Division, faces Denver. Boston's Jim Nance had his best game last week gaining 208 yards on a record 38 carries.

Buffalo, a half-game back in the Eastern Division, is at Miami, which has won two straight after losing its first five. Miami's Cookie Gilchrist faces his former teammates for the first time.

Houston, 3-5, is at Oakland, 4-4, where the Oilers' George Blanda will test his passes against the best pass defense in the league. Houston beat the Raiders 31-0 in their first meeting of the season.

The NFL Eastern Division-leading St. Louis Cardinals are in New York where the Giants will get another chance at the victory that just eluded them the last time the clubs played. A late pass from Charley Johnson to Billy Gambrell gave the Cards the victory then.

Cleveland, riding a four-game winning streak, is at Pittsburgh for a rematch with the club the Browns beat 41-10 early in October. The Steelers have lost five in a row.

Baltimore, in second place in the West, plays Washington at home. The Colts are working on a victory streak of three games and the Redskins have won five of their last six.

Detroit, in the cellar in the West with six losses in seven games, is at Chicago where it will face one of the two teams it has beaten this year. But Rudy Bukich, Gale Sayers and Co. will be trying to show that Detroit's 14-3 victory in the opener was all a mistake.

Los Angeles, 4-4, is at San Francisco, 3-3-1, seeking to repeat its 34-3 victory over the 49ers in September. San Francisco has won three of its last four and the Rams, after winning four of their first five, have dropped three straight.

76ers Notch 17th Straight At Pittsburgh

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Van Arsdale held Rick Barry to two points — if you don't count his concession — and in so doing enabled the New York Knickerbockers to beat the San Francisco Warriors.

"You concede him 30 points and try to keep him from getting 50 or 60," Van Arsdale said Thursday night after spending most of a National Basketball Association game guarding Barry.

Barry, the NBA's Rookie of the Year last season and the current scoring leader, scored 32 points but was limited by Van Arsdale to just one in the third period when the Knicks outscored the Warriors 36-19 en route to a 123-108 victory.

The 6-foot-5 Van Arsdale, who draws the assignment of guarding the opposition's top-scoring forward, also finds time to play offense. He scored 25 points and had four assists.

In other NBA action, Boston beat Chicago 137-108 before the Knicks-Warriors game at Madison Square Garden, and Philadelphia topped St. Louis 120-108 in Pittsburgh.

Wilt Chamberlain scored only 14 points but grabbed 24 rebounds and blocked several shots as Philadelphia won its 17th straight regular season game and tied an NBA record. The first 11 victories in the string came at the end of last season.

Chet Walker made up for Chamberlain's lack of scoring by getting 36. Zelmo Beatty netted 32 for St. Louis.

Led by Larry Siegfried, Boston outscored Chicago 18-8 in the late stages of the first quarter for a 35-23 lead and the start of a rout.

Cowboys, Browns Should Roll

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Tarkenton and his Minnesota scramblers will take a shot at the Green Bay Packers Sunday and the Vikings' quarterback, who seems to make up plays as he goes along, probably will give Vinnie Lombardi a few gray hairs.

The Vikings' unorthodox style usually troubles the Packers, who scorn the hipper dipper for the old bread and butter style. However, the Packers hold a 9-1 edge over Minnesota in their club series.

St. Louis, Dallas and Cleveland appear to have clear sailing ahead in the NFL and that San Diego-Kansas City game should help clear up the confusion in the AFL's West.

The picks for this Sunday's pro games:

NFL

Cleveland 31, Pittsburgh 14- Browns have won four straight and Bill Austin's Steelers have dropped five in a row, including 41-10 drubbing by Cleveland Oct. 8.

Dallas 35, Philadelphia 13- Wolves snapping at Eagles despite 4-4 record. Cowboys lead league in scoring and are second in defense with Mel Renfro back at safety.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 17- This will be rugged. The 49ers put Bill Munson out for the season in this game last year. Rams won first meeting 34-3 on four interceptions and fumble but have lost three straight.

Green Bay 27, Minnesota 17- Tarkenton will scramble, but the Packers will pin him down. With a bye next week, Green Bay can go all out and that means trouble.

Baltimore 27, Washington 20- Colts never take Skins lightly, not with that neighborhood feud. Baltimore has won last six since 1959 and still hopes to catch Green Bay in that big Dec. 10 game.

Chicago 14, Detroit 7- Afraid of this one. Lions are desperate with fans singing "Good Bye Harry" and players in bitter mood. Bears had tough game Monday night in St. Louis and could be used up physically.

St. Louis 24, New York 13- For some strange reason Giants always give Cards fits. They even did it this year before losing Oct. 9 game 24-19. Unless Cards are looking ahead too far they should have no trouble with battered Giants, even after their one-week holiday.

Atlanta has the bye.

AFL

Boston 20, Denver 10- Denver's defense is stopping nobody. Jim Nance should romp again. Pats took Eastern lead last week and they're not going to give it up.

Buffalo 30, Miami 7- Bills rolled it up in first game against Dolphins, 58-24, and have too much class to stumble here.

Kansas City 28, San Diego 17- Chiefs either win big or fall on their faces. Chargers, in and outers this year, had to scramble to get past Denver.

Oakland 21, Houston 17- Why? We saw Houston on TV last week. Raiders on the move, despite 24-21 loss in Boston, and eager to make up for 31-0 beating by Houston in early season. New York has the bye.

Arkansas Gridder Is Listed Critical, Still Unconscious

HOUSTON (AP) — Claude Smithey, University of Arkansas football player who underwent emergency brain surgery last Sunday, remained unconscious and in critical condition today but his wife said she believed he was improving.

"I'm encouraged," said Mrs. Charlene Smithey. "He's starting to move his arms and eyebrows. I think he is going to pull out of it."

A cranial blood clot had kept him out of action last season. In last weekend's operation doctors at Methodist Hospital again removed such a clot.

"I was apprehensive but I let him return to football," Mrs. Smithey said. "He wanted to play. Football is in his blood. The doctors gave their approval."

She said doctors who performed the first operation told her clot in the same spot was highly improbable.

Against Texas A&M, he participated in no more than 10 plays. Arkansas coaches said game films show no blow on the head that could have caused the injury.

Bret Hanover Scheduled To End Career

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The brilliant harness racing career of Bret Hanover is scheduled to come to a close Saturday when he competes in the $50,000 American Pacing Classic at Hollywood Park.

The 4-year-old bay, who has beeen sold by Robert Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, to Fred Van Lennep for a reported $2 million and is to go into stud at Lexington, Ky., boasts the most impressive record in the sport.

He has won 62 of his 67 starts and never finished worse than second.

The American classic is 1¼ miles.

Adios Vic and Calgary Bay are the only horses who have beaten Bret, and both will be back in action in the classic.

Kicking Mark Of Gogolak Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been only one year since Charley Gogolak ended his college football career and became a pro, but already his collegiate kicking record is being threatened.

The Norwegian-born Stenerud has connected on 43 of 46 extra point attempts and 9 of 19 field goal tries for 70 points, putting him 13th in scoring in the college division. He has two games remaining.

New Mexico Highlands still leads in team scoring at 51.3 points a game, according to National Collegiate Athletic Association statistics released today.

34 Teams Enter Ohio High School X-Country Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A total of 34 teams are entered in Saturday's 38th annual Ohio High School Cross Country Meet, while Chuck Starkey of Columbus West is rated the individual favorite.

All told 320 runners will compete, having qualified from among 1,192 who ran in district meets.

Cleveland St. Joseph is defending the Class AA laurels in the two-mile romp over Ohio State University golf course acreage. Starkey was 1964 state individual titlist as a sophomore runnerup last year and had the best regional clocking this fall, 9:41.7.

Rangers Rout Boston, 7-1

And normally, the Rangers consider it a successful evening if they can get one more goal than the opposition.

So on Thursday night, when the Rangers won a rare laugher, 7-1 over Boston, it seemed only fitting that Harry Howell should push in a couple of goals of his own.

The veteran Ranger defenseman scored only four goals all last year and just two the season before that. Clearly, he is expected to do other things.

And so are the Rangers. It was only their second victory of the young season.

In the only other NHL game, Detroit tied Toronto 2-2 on a late goal by Murray Hall. Ron Ellis and Eddie Shack scored in the second period for the Maple Leafs after Detroit had gone ahead 1-0 on a goal by Floyd Smith.

Seventy - eight rookies began the season with American Football League teams.

Fall Injures Chester Child

A Chester area girl injured in a fall was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where four other area residents were treated Thursday and today following separate mishaps.

Crystal Jackson, 4, daughter of Everett Jackson of Fairview Rd., Chester, suffered a head injury in a fall down three steps at home. She was admitted last night.

Robert McKinnon of 115 W. 2nd St. was treated early this morning for a laceration of the right cheek received when struck by a piece of sewer pipe which fell and broke as he was loading it on a conveyor belt at the American Vitrified Products Co.

Ernest Walker of New Cumberland R.D. 2, an employe of the Globe Brick Co., received bruises of the arm when bricks fell.

Hall Introduces Casseroles With Lining Of Teflon

The Hall China Co. has introduced casseroles with non-stick Teflon coating on the interior as part of a new line of cookware —the first known use of the 20th Century invention with the products of the potters' ancient art.

The ovenproof casseroles are part of a set that includes matching teapots, cookie jars and a three-piece bowl set. Two patterns are available at present, with more contemplated.

The patterns now on the market are called "Sunny Dale," featuring yellow and green colors, and "Minah," in black and red. The new ware was introduced to wholesale buyers for the first time at a recent Chicago show.

The company said the ware is available at present in many parts of the United States. By the first of 1967, distribution will be on a nationwide basis.

Additional patterns are planned on the cookware line and the Teflon may be utilized on other items where it would serve a practical purpose, the company said.

Hall Introduces Casseroles With Lining Of Teflon

The Hall China Co. has introduced casseroles with non-stick Teflon coating on the interior as part of a new line of cookware —the first known use of the 20th Century invention with the products of the potters' ancient art.

The ovenproof casseroles are part of a set that includes matching teapots, cookie jars and a three-piece bowl set. Two patterns are available at present, with more contemplated.

The patterns now on the market are called "Sunny Dale," featuring yellow and green colors, and "Minah," in black and red. The new ware was introduced to wholesale buyers for the first time at a recent Chicago show.

The company said the ware is available at present in many parts of the United States. By the first of 1967, distribution will be on a nationwide basis.

Additional patterns are planned on the cookware line and the Teflon may be utilized on other items where it would serve a practical purpose, the company said.

Westinghouse Strike Widens

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The strike against Westinghouse Electric Corp. has widened.

The number of strikers increased by 2,000 Thursday, by company estimate, bringing the total to about 7,300.

The walkout by the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW), started Monday night, has stopped work at 19 repair shops and nine manufacturing plants.

The IBEW, representing 14,000 Westinghouse workers, struck when its contract ran out and negotiations failed to produce a new one.

Meanwhile, AFL - CIO President George Meany called a meeting for today in his Washington office of the presidents of eleven affiliated unions that bargain with Westinghouse. The IBEW said the purpose of the meeting is "to further mobilize support for the Westinghouse strikers."

Rhodes Opposes Step To Hike Fair Prices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has reacted to Ohio State Fair Manager E. J. Keirns' proposal to raise admission prices at the annual exposition by expressing opposition.

Keirns told the Ohio Expositions Commission Wednesday it might well raise adult and children's tickets 25 cents each to $1.25 and 50 cents, respectively, to help pay for high-priced free entertainment.

Rhodes, voicing objection Thursday, said the fair "should be within the financial reach of every Ohioan regardless of the size of his family" and pointed to Keirns' report of a record profit ($121,743) for the 1966 show as indicating no need for the increases.

Man Fined In Mishap That Hurt Pedestrian

Police said Hobson's truck, turning off E. 5th St. onto Market St., struck Robert Milby, 42, of 1313 Smithfield St., who was walking across Market St. from west to east. Milby was hospitalized with multiple lacerations.

Westinghouse Strike Widens

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The strike against Westinghouse Electric Corp. has widened.

The number of strikers increased by 2,000 Thursday, by company estimate, bringing the total to about 7,300.

The walkout by the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) started Monday night, has stopped work at 19 repair shops and nine manufacturing plants.

No new negotiations are scheduled, but federal mediators say they are keeping in touch with both sides.

The IBEW, representing 14,000 Westinghouse workers, struck when its contract ran out and negotiations failed to produce a new one.

Meanwhile, AFL - CIO President George Meany called a meeting for today in his Washington office of the presidents of eleven affiliated unions that bargain with Westinghouse. The IBEW said the purpose of the meeting is "to further mobilize support for the Westinghouse strikers."

Rhodes Opposes Step To Hike Fair Prices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has reacted to Ohio State Fair Manager E. J. Keirns' proposal to raise admission prices at the annual exposition by expressing opposition.

Keirns told the Ohio Expositions Commission Wednesday it might well raise adult and children's tickets 25 cents each to $1.25 and 50 cents, respectively, to help pay for high-priced free entertainment.

Rhodes, voicing objection Thursday, said the fair "should be within the financial reach of every Ohioan regardless of the size of his family" and pointed to Keirns' report of a record profit ($121,743) for the 1966 show as indicating no need for the increases.

Man Fined In Mishap That Hurt Pedestrian

A 28-year-old Wellsville man whose truck bumped a North Side man Wednesday on Market St. at 5th St. was fined $25 and costs Thursday in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian who was walking lawfully on a crosswalk.

Police said Hobson's truck, turning off E. 5th St. onto Market St., struck Robert Milby, 42, of 1313 Smithfield St., who was walking across Market St. from west to east. Milby was hospitalized with multiple lacerations.

Reservoir Drains Dry, 400 Without Water

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—A reservoir drained dry in the nearby community of Russell, leaving its 400 residents without water Thursday.

The 37,000-gallon reservoir drained empty overnight, authorities said, apparently through a leak in a pipeline between the reservoir and the town.

1-Day Walkout Ends At Hanna Coal Mine

CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — A one-day walkout involving 300 workers ended Thursday at the Franklin Mine of the Hanna Coal Co. after the miners voted to return to work.

The walkout reportedly was triggered by a foreman who used "rough language." A union spokesmn said a meeting with management to discuss the grievance was under way.

Bellaire Gets Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $124,605 grant is being reserved to help Bellaire, Ohio, build a neighborhood center, the Department of Housing and Urban Development announced Thursday.

Junior Editors Quiz on THOMAS EDISON

QUESTION: How many inventions are credited to Thomas Edison?

ANSWER: Not only did Edison work out a great many useful ideas of his own, but he also improved discoveries made by others. An example is the moving picture (upper left). The principle of this had been known, but Edison invented projectors and other devices which greatly helped to make the movies what they are today. Perhaps his most useful invention was the electric light. Nothing but the most patient effort enabled him to find out how to keep the fragile filament glowing inside a sealed glass bulb. Think what this great discovery has meant to millions and millions of people! Edison's own favorite among the devices he created was the phonograph (we illustrate a modern machine, which though different in appearance, uses the same principle as Edison's original one). Edison liked the thought of bringing music and fun to so many people. In all, he took out patents on more than 1,100 inventions. Because his famous creation of the electric light was made in Menlo Park, N. J., he was often called "the Wizard of Menlo Park."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Edison acquired his enormous knowledge by his habit of asking questions. You can ask questions too. Then check on the answers as Edison did.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of 1966. There are 57 days left in the year.

On this date in 1924, Calvin Coolidge was elected the 30th President of the United States.

On this date:

In 1879, actor and humorist-philosopher Will Rogers was born.

In 1952, Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected President of the United States with 442 electoral votes compared with 89 for his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson.

Ten years ago — Hard-hitting Israeli forces completed a seven-day lightning conquest of the Sinai Peninsula and the Gaza Strip in Egypt. And, a Soviet military force crushed a revolution by freedom-seeking Hungarians.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: If you are fortunate enough to have a doughboard (some call it a bread board), but it is so worn, scratched and stained that if you had it sanded, it would be too thin . . . why not go to a lumber yard and buy a thin sheet of plastic counter top board and have it cut the exact size of the doughboard?

Better yet (you can't possibly make a mistake this way), put the board in your car so you will have it with you the next time you are near a lumber yard. Take it in and ask them to cut a piece of the plastic the size you need.

When you return home, fasten the plastic piece to the top of that glorious doughboard with six or eight tiny nails.

This will make a clean and neat cutting board. You will find it worth every penny you have spent.

If you ask for SCRAP board you will get it for about one-fourth the regular price. Even if you buy a piece that does not match the color scheme in your kitchen, it makes no difference, as the board is usually stored out of sight when not in use.

You will love your rejuvenated doughboard.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to keep all my patches and sewing scraps for quilt pieces, in one large bag. Now I have found a better and quicker way to find the piece I want.

I sorted all the scraps, such as ginghams, prints, silk, velvet, and so on, and put them in separate plastic bags which vegetables and other things come in.

I can pick out the bag I want, and find the scrap much quicker.

MRS. G.P.J.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I see a small, red ball or a flower stuck on a car antennae, I think, "There goes another Heloise reader!" Every parking lot I go to I see your flags flying.

J.O

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a young housewife and mother who lives in a small apartment.

As you can guess, I'm quite limited for space but I have come up with an idea for those pretty cardboard facial tissue boxes without the names on them .

I also use one as a catchall for the baby's small toys and rattles, and still another one for receipts and bills until they are paid and filed away.

MRS. PAT McHALE.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut tops off detergent and bleach bottles to make flower pots. I cut one inch from the base of a larger bottle to make a saucer for the flower pot.

BETTY RICHARDSON.

Then by pouring water into the saucer it will seep up through the holes and water the roots of the plant.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A good way to leave messages for children when you're not home, is by CODE.

Notes left on the door might tell a stranger too much, but when a yellow tack means "you're next door," a blue one that "you'll be home in a few minutes," or a red one says, "enter quietly, little ones are napping," then only the right person gets the message.

Bricker Plugs Miller For Congress Seat

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—Former Gov. and U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker plugged Republican congressional candidate Clarence E. Miller here Thursday night by terming Miller's opponent "one of LBJ's rubber stamps."

Bricker's reference was to U.S. Rep. Walter Moeller of Lancaster who he said must share with other Democrats "the blame for the high cost of living". He charged they have "blindly supported the spend-thrift programs of the Johnson-Humphrey administration."

Much Of GOP Campaign Movie Will Be Discarded

WASHINGTON (AP) —Much of the latest Republican campaign movie is apparently going to wind up in the same place as the last one — on the cutting room floor.

Two years ago, a group called Mothers for a Moral America, an offshoot of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, withdrew at the last moment a campaign film called "Choice" which featured topless bathing suits, pornography and street violence.

This year, the Republican Congressional Committee hired a New York film studio, Newspix Inc., to produce a movie for nationwide viewing, and it came up with a 30-minute feature called "What's Going On Here?"

Like "Choice," it included pictures of crime and violence, and of the Viet Nam war, interspersed with statements by President Johnson and other administration officials, plus a narration by actor Raymond Massey.

But the premiere showing last week, for selected high GOP officials, drew few favorable reviews, and the congressional committee has been busy since trying to salvage as much of its $45,000 investment as possible.

Although the film is still scheduled to be shown Sunday on the National Broadcasting Co. television network, it has been cut sharply, with a talk by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon added to fill out the half hour. NBC gave Republicans and Democrats a half hour of free time on Sunday.

GOP officials said Thursday night they were reassessing parts of the film involving the President in view of the chief executive's announcement of his impending surgery.

The controversy over the film erupted Tuesday when Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, noting two newspaper stories about it, let loose a blast that the Republicans planned to use "highly distorted and misleading material." He said the film was a 1966 version of "Choice."

It became known that a number of leading Republicans wanted the film dropped, including Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference; National Chairman Ray C. Liss; and Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Nothing Stops Stork, Relatives Find Out

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A derailed freight train stopped traffic on two downtown bridges here Thursday for about 90 minutes.

But nothing stops the stork, or so relatives of Mrs. Frederick Craft found out.

They were driving her to a hospital in Cuyahoga Falls to have her baby when they found the two crossings blocked due to the derailment of eight cars of an Erie Lackawanna freight train.

Instead, they drove to the Kent Police Department. There in the parking lot, Mrs. Craft gave birth to a baby girl. She was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Holmes, a police dispatcher.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: If you are fortunate enough to have a dough board (some call it a bread board), but it is so worn, scratched and stained that if you had it sanded, it would be too thin . . . why not go to a lumber yard and buy a thin sheet of plastic counter top board and have it cut the exact size of the doughboard?

Better yet (you can't possibly make a mistake this way), put the board in your car so you will have it with you the next time you are near a lumber yard. Take it in and ask them to cut a piece of the plastic the size you need.

When you return home, fasten the plastic piece to the top of that glorious doughboard with six or eight tiny nails.

This will make a clean and neat cutting board. You will find it worth every penny you have spent.

If you ask for SCRAP board you will get it for about one-fourth the regular price. Even if you buy a piece that does not match the color scheme in your kitchen, it makes no difference, as the board is usually stored out of sight when not in use.

You will love your rejuvenated doughboard.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to keep all my patches and sewing scraps for quilt pieces, in one large bag. Now I have found a better and quicker way to find the piece I want.

I sorted all the scraps, such as ginghams, prints, silk, velvet, and so on, and put them in separate plastic bags which vegetables and other things come in.

I can pick out the bag I want, and find the scrap much quicker.

MRS. G.P.J.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I see a small, red ball or a flower stuck on a car antennae, I think, "There goes another Heloise reader!" Every parking lot I go to I see your flags flying.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a young housewife and mother who lives in a small apartment.

As you can guess, I'm quite limited for space but I have come up with an idea for those pretty cardboard facial tissue boxes without the names on them.

I keep one in the bathroom on the window sill to hold my comb, brush, mirror and packet of bobby pins.

I also use one as a catchall for the baby's small toys and rattles, and still another one for receipts and bills until they are paid and filed away.

MRS. PAT McHALE.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut tops off detergent and bleach bottles to make flower pots. I cut one inch from the base of a larger bottle to make a saucer for the flower pot.

And, if the plants require watering from the bottom, you could punch a few holes in the bottom of the pot before putting the plant into it.

Then by pouring water into the saucer it will seep up through the holes and water the roots of the plant.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A good way to leave messages for children when you're not home, is by CODE.

Notes left on the door might tell a stranger too much, but when a yellow tack means "you're next door," a blue one that "you'll be home in a few minutes," or a red one says, "enter quietly, little ones are napping," then only the right person gets the message.
